I. W. W. Lawyer Taken from Lodging and Lynched

PARTY OF MASKED MEN IN BUTTE DO A BIT OF HANGING

Frank Little, Who Said Soldiers Were
"Uncle Sam's Scabs in Uniform,"
Swings From a Trestle.

THEORY, I. W. W. HANGED HIM AS SPY

Butte, Mont., Aug. 1.—Frank Little, member of the executive board of the Industrial Workers of the World and a leader in labor troubles in Arizona, was taken from a lodging house early today by masked men and hanged to a railroad trestle on the outskirts of the city.

The body was cut down at 8 a. m. by the chief of police, Jerry Murphy, who identified it.

Little, in a recent speech here, referred to United States troops as "Uncle Sam's scabs in uniform."

Since his arrival in Butte recently from Globe, Ariz., Little has made a number of speeches to strikers, in all of which he attacked the government and urged the men to shut down the mines of the district. He was bitter in his denunciation of the government, whose attention had been called to his activities. On the other hand, the report was current that Little was in the employ of a detective agency and one theory was that he was the victim of the radical element of which he appeared to be a member.

Little took a leading part in recent labor troubles in Arizona. He addressed a letter to Gov. Campbell, of Arizona, protesting against the deportation of I. W. W. members from Bisbee. This letter was written from Salt Lake. Gov. Campbell replied, telling Little he resented his interference and his threats. Little was understood to have the confidence of Wm. D. Haywood, secretary of the I. W. W. national organization, and was regarded here as one of Haywood's confidential agents.

Little was a cripple, but active and a forceful speaker.

AGREEMENT ON THE FOOD BILL WILSON WINS

Washington, Aug. 1.—The deadlock of the conferees on the administration food control bill was broken today and complete agreement reached when the senate conferees yielded and consented to strike out the amendment proposing a congressional committee to supervise war expenditures which President Wilson has opposed.

SEEK TO STEM THE RUSH OF SLACKERS TO MARRIAGE DESK

New York, Aug. 1.—An order that applicants for marriage licenses here today be required to show their military registration cards was expected to put an end to the rush of men of conscription age to marry to escape service in the national army.

With the rush for licenses yesterday when many openly admitted they were being married to escape military draft and but few of the 527 men granted licenses were not of military age, the bureau today was trying to catch up in its routine work. An examination of the first seventy licenses showed that only one man was above the draft age. Only six were born in the United States and of these two had foreign born parents on one or both sides.

ALLIES QUIT OLD GREECE

Evacuation by Forces Is in Progress as Promised Recently.

PARIS CONFERENCE AGREED UPON PLAN

Withdrawal of Armies Is Designed to Leave Old
Greece to Greeks.

Athens, Monday, July 30.—Withdrawal of the allied forces from old Greece, Thessaly and Epirus, in accordance with the decision of the Balkan conference at Paris is being rapidly carried out.

The last French-British troops left Piraeus today. The withdrawal from Corinth and other points was previously executed.

The Italians are similarly preparing to leave Janina and other sections of Piraeus retaining only a small triangle near Avlonia in Albania.

The unanimity of the allied action is a source of satisfaction as the Italian aspiration desired a wider field but yielded in the interest of the united action to withdraw all and leave Greece to the Greeks.

Preparations are under way to call out the classes of 1916 and 1917, aggregating 60,000 men. The Greek government is highly gratified at the result as showing the allies are recognizing the territorial integrity of Greece.

RIBOT NAILS CHANCELLOR

French Premier Says the Michaelis Speech Was

ANSWERS CHALLENGE HURLED FROM BERLIN

Denies France Is in War to Effect Conquest of Territory.

Paris, Aug. 1.—Premier Ribot replied in the chamber of deputies yesterday to the declaration made Saturday by Dr. Michaelis, the German chancellor, that there was a secret treaty between France and Russia, having in view plans of conquest. Premier Ribot, after saying he was convinced that Spain would apply the decree internment the German submarine which anchored in the harbor of Corunna on Monday evening, said: "I wish to reply to the singular speech which Dr. Michaelis thought fit to invite the Berlin journalists to hear. The German chancellor publicly commanded the French government to declare whether, in a speech June 1, the French government had not made known to the chamber the terms of a secret treaty made before the Russian revolution whereby the emperor bound himself to support French pretensions to German territory."

PRESS JEERS AT A UNIFORM WORN BY CHANCELLOR

Copenhagen, Aug. 1.—Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to Washington, was among the few selected guests invited by Baron von Treutler, Emperor William's diplomatic adviser and Prussian envoy to the court of Bavaria, to meet Chancellor Michaelis at tea on the occasion of the chancellor's visit to Munich. Dr. Michaelis wore a captain's uniform, giving the Berlin Vossische Zeitung the opportunity to scoff at the worship of epaulettes which puts a leading statesman in line officer's uniform, but says that there is little doubt that Chancellor Michaelis, like Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, ex-chancellor, and Herr von Jagow, former minister of foreign affairs, will be speedily promoted to more adequate rank.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The detailed report of Rear Admiral Gleaves respecting the submarine attack on the American transports of the first expedition to France was received today by Secretary Daniels and forwarded to Chairman Tillman, of the senate naval affairs committee. It probably will be made public later. It was said that the report, which is in detail and supplementary to the brief report on which the navy department announced the successful repulse of Washington, Aug. 1.—Few members were in their seats and a small number of spectators were in the galleries when debate on the prohibition measure was resumed in the senate today. Senator Calder, the first speaker, announced that he would vote against the resolution declaring that in his opinion it was a question to be determined by the states.

Senator Penrose said he would vote against the resolution "regardless of its merits or demerits."

Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, supporting the resolution, said: "Why do we prohibit the boys in the army and navy from having booze and insist

AMERICAN SHIP TORPEDOED BY TEUTON U-BOAT

London, Aug. 1.—The American steamship Motano, of 2,730 tons gross, was sunk by a Teuton submarine on July 31. Twenty-two survivors have been landed.

SAILED JULY 2 FROM NEW YORK.

New York, Aug. 1.—The Motano sailed from New York July 2 for Queenstown, Ireland. The vessel was in command of Capt. L. S. Stratton and carried a crew of thirty-four men, of whom fifteen claimed American citizenship when signed on her before the United States commissioner of shipping. The Motano was built in 1890 at Newcastle, England.

COMMISSION IN THE NAVY GIVEN ANOTHER WOMAN

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Mrs. William L. Osborne, of Wilmette suburb, has received notice of her appointment as ensign in the United States navy, being one of two women holding such commissions. She has been long identified with work of aid at the great lakes naval training station and it was largely at the solicitation of the blue-jackets there that the appointment was made, it is said.

BREEDS ROW IN ENGLAND

Member of Government Goes to Paris to Confer With Socialists.

IS ACCOMPANIED BY A NOTED PACIFIST

May Create Serious State of Affairs in British Government.

London, Aug. 1.—The fact that a member of the cabinet, Arthur Henderson, minister without portfolio in the war council, had gone on a mission to Paris with the pacifist, Ramsey MacDonald, member of parliament; George James Wardle, chairman of the labor party in the house of commons, and Russian delegates, aroused great irritation among the members of parliament and seems to threaten trouble in the government. The purpose of the journey is to confer with French socialists in regard to the proposed conference of allied socialists at London and the subsequent international conference at Stockholm.

Changes His Views.
The crux of the matter lies in the fact that Mr. Henderson since he returned from Petrograd reversed his attitude on the question of the British labor party and socialists meeting the German representatives at Stockholm and now advises them to rescind the former resolution.

Action Is Taken Because of Inability to Secure Male Help.

SPECIAL UNIFORMS TO BE ADOPTED

They Will Split to the Knees and Fasten at Ankles With Buckles.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has opened the doors to female labor wherever it can be advantageously employed. This action follows a very discouraging effort to supply the shops, offices, material yards and round house with male labor. This has been far short of the demand for some time and is becoming more serious as the days advance.

Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, stated Tuesday morning that it had been decided to employ women at the shops and provision for handling them is now being made or has already been made. At the east car shops women will be employed for cleaning up around the yards, assorting "scrap" steel and iron, as material distributor in the store room, cleaning cars, washing windows and many other tasks now performed by men. Buildings for rest room, lavatory and locker accommodations are now in course of erection there.

At the round house women will be employed for sweeping, washing boilers, wiping engines, distributors of

EXEMPTIONS IN PITTSBURG WILL RUN FIVE IN SIX

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 1.—To provide Allegheny county's quota of 11,000 men for the first increment of the national army, draft board officials here believed it would be necessary to call 60,000 registrants. Indicated exemptions are averaging five out of every six examined, they say.

W. R. Coates, secretary of the Ninth war exemption board, declares feeling is running high among those whom his board has examined because of the exemption of aliens.

"Because they believe these foreigners should also be liable for service, every man who can possibly do so is making a claim for exemption," said Mr. Coates.

GREAT DRIVE IN FLANDERS WILL BE THE BIGGEST

Combined Attack of British and French
Will Be Pressed Until Objects Are Completely Gained.

GERMAN COUNTER-ATTACKS REPULSED

Paris, Aug. 1.—The battle of Flanders has begun and indications are that it will be the biggest battle of the war. The offensive of the French and British allies had been expected for some weeks past for although the French and British official communications gave no inkling of it the German reports showed clearly a large scale operation was in progress.

The French public, however, did not know that French troops had been dispatched to share in the assault. Originally, the front from the North sea coast to Ypres had been held by the French in the Neuport region then by the Belgians as far as Elverdinghe and then by the British.

The British troops later relieved the French and part of the Belgians along the coast. It is thoroughly recognized here that the operation is only the beginning of a battle that will last weeks, perhaps months, but it is also hoped and believed that its effects will be in proportion to the extraordinary care and vast scale on which it has been prepared.

The first part of the program has been carried out with complete success and in a way which augurs well for its accomplishment as a whole. A glance at the map is sufficient to show the importance of the operations now under way. What has been effected fully justifies the German apprehensions and the French jubilation. French military observers say it is not too much to hope that the Germans may soon be cleared out of France and Belgium Flanders if things continue as planned.

Summary of the Day's War News

With a wide stretch of territory and more than 3,500 prisoners in their hands as the result of the first day's fighting in their new offensive the British and French troops in Flanders spent last night consolidating their gains and repulsing the inevitable German counter attacks.

The new line which along the greater part of its stretch is two miles to two and one-half miles in advance of the old and includes ten captured towns within its limits, has been firmly held along the entire front. The consolidation process is being carried out under a torrential rain which is hampering further operations. The extent of the advantage gained by the smashing of the German lines in this important sector of the front will have to be judged by further developments. Definite objectives were assigned the various allied units for attainment in the first day's stroke and these appear to have gained almost in their entirety.

The logical supposition with the history of the Somme and Arras operations.

LETTERS FLOOD WASHINGTON TO SPOT SLACKERS

Washington, Aug. 1.—Letters pouring into the department of justice from every section of the country at the rate of 100 to 200 a day are reporting men who failed to register for the draft. A special corps of investigators and clerks is handling the reports, forwarding them to the proper officials throughout the country and recording the results.

Thus far it has been found that the information in a large percentage of the letters has been correct and as a result of such voluntary aid to the government hundreds of slackers have been placed on the registration rolls. The letters come from all classes of persons, some of them anonymous, and a large percentage from women.

FRENCH AIRMAN BAGS FIFTIETH GERMAN PLANE

Paris, Aug. 1.—Capt. George Guymer, one of France's leading airmen, has brought down his fiftieth German airplane. The French aviator had been sick in the hospital in the latter part of July after scoring his forty-sixth, forty-seventh and forty-eighth victories, but on July 28 he returned to duty, half cured, with the famous "stork quadrilla" and on the same day brought down one machine north of Tournai, Belgium, and another, the latter part of July after scoring his forty-

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

THOMAS S. FOX IS NEW TRAINMASTER

Has Been With the Grand Rapids & Indiana for Seventeen Years.

Thomas S. Fox, who has been acting trainmaster of the G. R. & I. for the past three weeks, has received notice that he has been appointed to the office, the same becoming effective today. Mr. Fox succeeds Richard E. Casey, who was called to the superintendency of the northern division of the system July 9 to succeed the late James W. Hunter, whose tragic death in a hotel elevator at Grand Rapids occurred a month ago. The news spread rapidly through the office force of the G. R. & I. and the Pennsylvania and created universal satisfaction, for the appointee is the friend of all. Mr. Fox was considered the logical appointee by all familiar with the situation.

Thomas S. Fox has been with the Grand Rapids and Indiana road seventeen years. He had a long desire for a job on the railroad when a lad and during a temporary sojourn at South Whitley, learned telegraphy at the station of the Nickel Plate, though he never was in the employ of that company. When the operator at South Whitley learned that positions for operators were open on the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, he recommended Thomas, who went to that line and made good. Then he took employment on the C. & H. D. and worked there until seventeen years ago, when he came to the G. R. & I. and became a brakeman. Three years later he returned to the keys, but was soon transferred to clerical work in the capacity of chief clerk to trainmaster R. E. Casey. Some time later he took the position of chief clerk to Superintendent B. H. Hudson and five years ago became assistant trainmaster. During his service in that capacity he was called upon to act as trainmaster on occasions when Mr. Casey would be out of the city. His work demonstrated his efficiency and led to his being selected for the responsible office he now assumes. The appointment of Mr. Fox is just what would have happened had the matter been left to the wishes of the employees and friends of the new trainmaster. He is deservedly popular with them.

NEW CHIEF CLERK ARRIVES.

C. N. Brentlinger, who succeeded W. L. Wilt as chief clerk of the motive power department of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, arrived in the city last night, and this morning assumed the duties of his office. He has been here frequently and knows nearly everybody connected with the motive power office, and was given a hearty greeting by the men. Mr. Brentlinger was succeeded at Toledo by Mr. Retensneider, late of the purchasing department offices at Pittsburgh.

SHOPMEN INJURED.

Three employees at the Pennsylvania shops were unfortunate yesterday inasmuch as they sustained injuries which will disable them for some days. H. W. Weisheit and J. S. Cramer each had a hand cut, and William L. Bond sustained other injuries.

Edward A. Lehneke, 47, a conductor for the G. R. & I. railroad company for the past twenty years and residing at 719 Hugh street, died at his home Tuesday morning at 3:30 o'clock. Death followed a brief illness and will come as a shock to all who knew him. Mr. Lehneke had complained of not feeling well for the past week, but remained at his work and took out his last run only Saturday. On Monday afternoon while in the house he suffered a slight attack of heart trouble. He fainted and when he was picked up he was unconscious. He remained in this condition until death relieved him. It is thought that death may have been due to heat prostration.

The deceased was born and reared in Fort Wayne and had resided here practically all his life with the exception of a few years which he spent on his parents' farm near the city. He had been in the employ of the railroad company for twenty years and was widely known in railroad circles.

Five years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Louise Forster, of Milwaukee, who survives as do three brothers, Clarence and Leonard, of Fort Wayne, and Otto, of Pittsburgh, and one sister, Mrs. D. F. Waymore, of Turlock, Cal.

Mr. Lehneke was a member of the R. P. O. Elks and the Order of Railway Conductors.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed but the body will be sent to Milwaukee for interment.

Edward Wolford Meets With Painful Accident.

After the accident Mr. Wolford was taken to the Hammond hospital, where he received attention from the company's surgeon and Sunday night he was brought here and is now under the care of Dr. Dinning. Unless complications set in, the injured member will be saved.

NEW ELECTRIC HEATERS.

DRILLING TWICE EACH WEEK NOW

Bowser Military Club Fast Becoming Efficient in Military Tactics.

The Bowser Military club is having two drill nights this week, instead of one. Monday night is their regular drill period, but an extra session will be held Friday night of this week. The company will "fall in" at 7:30 on the vacant lot directly south of the Western Gas Construction company plant. Special drills are being practiced for Winona day, which is held on Saturday, the 4th, and all members are urged to be on hand Friday night.

A great deal of work is also necessary, planning details for the Petey Dink ice cream social and band concert to be held at Swinney park, August 9th.

Everybody is going to have a good time the night of the 9th, and lots of fun. There will be plenty of seats for all, so those who wish to rest can. There will also be plenty of diversions to suit a crowd such as is expected that night.

This is the first affair of this kind staged by the Bowser Military club and it promises to be a complete success in every way, says C. M. Smith, who takes a prominent part in the affairs. With the proceeds the club expects to equip themselves for more aggressive training, so that when some of the boys are called they will at least know the elements of military training.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Hasty marriages made since July 20, the date of army draft drawing, in an effort to escape conscription through the claim of a dependent wife, will not be considered ground for discharge unless the wife is actually dependent on the husband's daily labor.

Prompted by reports from many cities of marriage license bureaus besieged by men included in the first draft call, Provost Marshal General Crowder has ruled that "marriage is not of itself a valid ground for making claim for discharge."

Dependency is a matter of fact, not of law, General Crowder pointed out. "A man whose wife is mainly dependent on his daily labor for support," he said, "may claim exemption on that ground. Only the exemption boards can determine this fact. Where dependence is shown by the facts, the exemption board has no choice but to grant it. Since July 20 by a man whose number is high in the available list, the actual fact of dependency must be closely scrutinized. Moreover," says General Crowder, "women who marry men liable to prosecution under the draft." In his ruling General Crowder adhered strictly to President Wilson's draft regulations which draw no distinction between a dependent wife acquired before or after the drawing. Secretary Baker had advocated refusing exemption to any man married after the drawing.

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID STATE UNIVERSITY

Washington, Aug. 1.—Tribute to the accomplishment and the part played in national life by the state university is paid by the chamber of commerce of the United States in a special report today based upon an extended investigation.

The report declares that although the state university has alike the faults and failings, the virtues and accomplishments of democracy, it is more and more creating distinct fields of endeavor and thus enlarging to many, those opportunities of higher education which would otherwise be denied them.

"The state university," the report says, "is assisting the legislature in formulating advanced legislation, affecting the relations of the commonwealth with public utilities, is giving women of many states education to fit them for economic and political life and is doing much to educate the farmers in the science of modern agriculture."

The report that one doesn't get enough to eat and that the place to sleep is dirty, is untrue. If you don't get enough to eat it is your own fault; and as to the bed and clothing, it has got to be kept clean for everything is inspected every day and it is seen to that it is clean."

GIANT DETECTOR TO DEFEAT SUBMARINES

New Device Raises Hope
That U-Boat Answer
Has Been Found.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The navy department has prepared a comprehensive plan, according to Secretary Daniels, for protecting American shipping against submarines until the time arrives when the allied council decides that a great offensive must be directed against the German bases, or until inventions which now are being worked out are ready for operation.

As already announced, the navy department is working on a giant detector which its originators believe will assist greatly in solving the submarine menace. Rear Admiral Grant, under whose direction the detector was first experimented with, has reported to the department that he believes in the immediate future results may be expected of the subsea device.

Get U-Boats at Bases. While the details of the detector cannot be published, it may be stated that the navy department expects it to be effective over a distance of approximately five miles. If it justifies these expectations it is the intention of the department to stretch the device across the waters in the vicinity of the German bases and thereby locate submarines as they start out.

In the meantime the department intends to rely upon armed guards and convoys to protect shipping.

Slow Ships the Only Victims. Officials call attention to the fact that no American ship with a fair rate of speed and properly armed has been sunk by a German submarine. The sinkings have been exclusively confined to slow ships or to unarmed ships.

The department is satisfied that if methods of arming ships as employed by this government the rate of destruction of all except extremely slow craft would be greatly reduced. Officials here know that Great Britain satisfies itself with placing one gun on a ship manned by a scrub crew, while this government carries numerous guns of the most approved type, manned by picked men from the fleet.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 1.—The Huntington Red Cross shipped 319 articles Monday to the warehouse in Fort Wayne. Orders for the mobilization of Company C, Fourth Indiana Infantry, were sent out Tuesday by Captain F. E. Livengood, formerly of Indianapolis. The men will meet at the armory Sunday and camp at the fair ground until ordered to Fort Benjamin Harrison. The gas company will pipe gas to the company kitchen, and the city will provide water for shower baths and cooking. Howard Shiedeler, son of Joseph Shiedeler, deputy county auditor, is home from Montgomery, Ala., on a furlough. Shiedeler is with the First Alabama Infantry band. Fred Dick, chairman of the county committee for the officers' reserve corps, has received blank applications for volunteer automobile truck drivers for service in France. Fred Bechtold, of near Blippus, after several weeks' anxiety, has learned that the supposed German spy, who was said to have tapped his wireless aerial, was an agent for an electric lighting system, who was taking pictures of homes equipped by his company. The Huntington county exemption board is making a list of the numbers applicable to Huntington county, and

THE CENSORSHIP AGAIN.

There appears no way to end the confusion that attends an attempt in Washington to impose a censorship on the news. The censor puts his indication on news that the executive departments give out freely to the newspapers and holds up intelligence from abroad that has been readily passed by censors on the other side.

This absence of teamwork is not merely confusing; it is irritating. It puts newspapers, correspondents and the great news-gathering associations up in the air, gives rise to feeling and starts disputes and quarrels besides resulting in misunderstandings out of which some newspapers gain a little and others lose something. The other day the war department sought to hold up news of the arrival of another American contingent in Europe after the announcement had been passed by the censor abroad. The account was very meager and wholly dark as to time and place. The Associated Press declined to kill its brief dispatches, holding that it might properly distribute them according to previous understandings had on matters of the sort. These dispatches contained no information of military value to the enemy.

Yesterday the censor in Washington sought to interdict the publication of several items of news after they had been given out to the press by the heads of departments in which the matters described had been dealt with. There appears to have been no reluctance by the departments to make public the executive acts told of and on their face there appears no reason why there should have been hesitancy of the sort. But the censor took a different view of it—perhaps because he did not know the department heads were responsible for the publicity given the affairs.

The vast majority of newspapers in America have no wish to print intelligence that may embarrass the government or may disclose facts of value to the enemy. They have proved that with the heartiest spirit during the past three months. They will not abandon or in the least degree abate their self-imposed restrictions. They will cheerfully accede to all requests of the government for the suppression of news that might work harm if published. There ought to be, however, some better grade of distinction as relating to what news should be suppressed and what published, just as there should be a more workable understanding between the censoring functionary and the departments in Washington and the news censors abroad.

Whatever plan is adopted ought to be devised and applied with a view to its uniform effect upon all newspapers and news-gathering agencies. The loyal newspapers of the country will not object to any reasonable measures provided all are touched alike by them.

PERHAPS NOT FATAL, BUT COSTLY.

The recreant Russians are still on the run in Galicia and those not on the run because of recreancy are swept along by the dual motive of attempting to stem the great skedaddle and to avoid capture by the superior enemy. Just when and where this is going to stop and what the cost of it all will have been found to be when inventory can be taken it is impossible even to guess. That it will stop some time somewhere can be imagined. Russia will have a return of its senses and a new vouchsafement of war spirit sooner or later.

her armies were equipped with big guns, field artillery and munitions of all sorts that placed them upon something like even terms with the enemy. Loyal to their cause, the Slav soldiers had it in their power either to inflict disaster on the foe in the east or to make it possible for France and Great Britain to inflict it in the west.

Then came the long weeks of inactivity when the Russ drowed the time away in his trench imagining vain things or in fraternizing with his foe out on no-man's land. The advent of Kerensky put an end to this and a thrilling offensive was launched the first of July. Successes were brilliant and important until the moujik, still possessed by his dreams or poisoned by anarchists and traitors and agents of the enemy, took it into his whirling head to run away. The results, while spectacular and rich in material for an unprecedented page in the history of wars for human liberty, are such as to vastly bedevil the whole situation. As his American brother in arms will tell him if he ever gets to the Russian front, the pretty idealism or the blanked bone-headedness of the moujik has "gummed the game." And that in a word is the fact of the matter. The flight of hordes of Russians from the field has enormously increased the difficulties of the allies and correspondingly improved the position of the Germanic coalition.

The resources of Russia in men and the thorough fighting spirit of them when well aroused, together with the capacity of the allies to finance the war and furnish ordnance and munitions, will enable Russia to come back strong and conquering whenever her sane leaders are able to check the crazed following after anarchists and hireling altruists sent among the soldiers of the new democracy. Russia has prolonged the war, but it still is possible for Russia to gather herself together again for the delivery of a smashing stroke at a time when, with America really in the war, stout blows will be telling wherever delivered.

SAVING THE COUNTRY.

It will pay to have your own canned stuff stored in your cellar this fall. It will be a national service also to do this. In the first place the commercial products may not be so abundant on grocery shelves as has been the case always heretofore. The government will make huge requisitions on canneries for food for the armies and for the country's allies. America never has experienced such a demand for foodstuffs as there is every promise of being the coming winter and it will be well to reinforce the usual supplies with what the housewives of America can preserve, both of vegetables and fruit.

It is made clear by all accounts from practically every part of the country that a prodigious crop of vegetables has been grown this year. Fruit is not so abundant as has been the case in some other years, but there is merely a shortage, not an actual scarcity. The most should be made of both crops. The more food there is preserved in home kitchens the more there will be to spare for the armies and the hungry people of some of the European countries. There will be prevented a demand calculated to put prices to a figure that might prove a downright hardship to a large percentage of the American people and might be prohibitive in the case of a great many.

It has been ceaselessly emphasized from Washington and from the headquarters of the Indiana council of defense that one of the great patriotic duties of the hour is to make an assured abundance of food secure before winter sets in. To the housewives of Indiana falls the duty of performing the state's bit in this regard. There seems to be a very general response to the call, but it should be remembered that this is a matter wherein there scarcely is the possibility of the thing being overdone. Food preserved is money saved, and it also is going to have the additional meaning of life saved as well. The more we can spare for use abroad the less will be the suffering and starvation in Europe.

Those to whom the preservation of food is a new undertaking can get all necessary information with little trouble. Reasonable attention to the newspapers most likely will provide a fairly liberal education along that line. The department of agriculture is prepared to furnish free of cost printed information to all who request it. The nation has no greater resource in war than its ability to feed itself well and to aid in feeding its allies.

Again the "biggest battle of the war" and perhaps the "decisive engagement of the conflict" is in progress in Flanders. We've had several of 'em heretofore that like this one have been marked by fine initial smashes, gain of ground and then a deadlock. Here's hoping this is the thing the others were thought to be and were not.

In a good many cities it is disclosed that about five out of every six registrants is claiming exemption on one ground and another. That is a bit discouraging, but a ratio of ten to one can be stood.

The process is slow, but attrition from the white house is gradually wearing away the lines of German defense in the senate.

I left the Stygian caves of this dread place—
Forsook the fevered mart, the highway hectic,
And gazed with happy eyes upon thy face.
With thee, on Ossian mount, I was all mute
As gods strolled by in robes of poetry;
With thee I listened to the sweet, far lute
Of Keats' immortal bird in cypress tree.
We looked in vision down the centuries,
And builded temples in thine Arcady;
And, on the hills of Hellas, felt the breeze
That came from some far, cyclad-dotted sea,
Where our poetic, youthful Argosies
Once spread white sails, in quest of golden fleece!

(We thank you, W. B. and also G for the pretty compliment. Your almost-sonnet isn't bad at all. It is almost as good as the feverish quatrains of Anthrax. Keep returning.)

Then with what a glorious burst of breezy laughter do they welcome the warm south wind of July!"

MAY BE HARD TO EXPLAIN.

(Gary, Ind., Tribune.)
We fear that the justices of the Indiana supreme court who strained themselves to find sound legal reasons why the people of Indiana should be deprived of electing delegates to a constitutional convention will find it rather difficult to explain their decision when it comes to the primaries for renomination.

The tone of the solid newspapers of the state, those which really influence public opinion, is not all favorable to the decision. It is only that the present war situation has detracted attention from the issue of a new constitution that the supreme court judges have escaped censure as well as they have. By the time another primary comes round only the decision itself will be remembered.

STUNNING THE KAISER.

(Kalamazoo Gazette.)
It is certain the vigorous steps taken by the United States to get effectively into war have stunned with surprise everyone from the Kaiser to his humblest subject. The situation should be one for satisfaction among the allies, we believe, and particularly for America.

German Census Lied to Fool Europe; Kaiser Has More Troops But Poorer

By L. HARPER LEECH.

How many Germans are there in Germany? This question has acquired a new significance from various reports of German reserves far greater than calculated on the basis of the German census.

The discussion of Germany's reserve troops has assumed there are about 70,000,000 Germans—but several weeks ago Switzerland reported Germany has falsified her censuses since 1875 to catch Europe off its guard.

These reports placed the actual number of Germans at 85,000,000 when the war began.

A returned Belgian relief commissioner, familiar with conditions in England and Germany before and during the war, offers some opinions backed by personal observation.

"Germany has been lying about her population," he says. "As a matter of fact about 800,000 young men come of age every year, which indicates a population in excess of 80,000,000."

"As to her reserves, they are undoubtedly larger than calculated by the French general staff. When I left Belgium there were many more German troops on the western front than at any other period of the war."

"Quantity is not worrying the German high command—but quality and morale are lacking."

"The new troops are of poor physique, a large part of them boys without sufficient nourishment during adolescence. They have had no butter fats and little meat. A boy needs the most intensive feeding from 14 to 18."

"The younger Germans are not comparable to the older for physical stamina. Since Germany became an industrial nation the physique of the people has been declining rapidly."

"The much talked of German social conservation measures did some good. Probably the German working classes were slightly better fed than the English, and better housed, but not much."

"Since the war, the condition of the people has gone downward while the British physique has improved."

"The war will prove the making of the British working class. It has higher wages and better food. The reverse is true in Germany."

"The British people also had a great advantage in moral stamina. Germany was becoming vicious and depraved. Immorality and illegitimacy flourished."

"The machine-made life under strict regulation caused this, and the low estate in which women are held in Germany fostered it."

"Immoral publications were allowed, and the government seemed to think that the prevalence of vice would keep the people from thinking about politics, and allay discontent. The Russian government followed the same line—adding to it anti-Jewish agitation."

"Degeneracy and perversion were on the increase in Germany and the country was the most immoral in Europe. There was little sense of individual responsibility. It was impossible to keep up the older codes of individualist morality. Religion had lost its hold."

"While the birth rate among the lower classes continues to be enormous, race suicide among the wealthier and more sophisticated classes was as prevalent as in France or America."

"All these things are beginning to tell on the strength of the race and can be seen mirrored in the degenerate, reedy and underfed boys now crowded into the German regiments."

bonds and 4½ tons for the registered bonds.

Impressions required to execute the coupon bonds were 65,400,000 and for the registered bonds 1,650,000.

Seven freight cars were used to haul the paper and four tons of engravers' steel was used for the dies, rolls and plates required.

FIXING THE PRICE.

(Terre Haute, Ind., Tribune.)

The price of wagon wheat in Terre Haute today, $2.25, would indicate that the law of supply and demand is not adjusting itself very rapidly to the announcement that the senate has fixed the price of wheat at $2. After considering $1.75 as the minimum price the senate increased the figure to $2. By what magic the senate reached the conclusion that $2 will be a fair minimum price at any time in the future we do not know. It is not known yet what the harvest will be, and much less can it be known what the corn fields have in store, and the price of one kind of grain has its effect upon the price of the others. The senate thinks, apparently, that too much power will be given to the executive if the price is left open to be determined when all the factors affecting prices are known. Fine country has not feared to give the interstate commerce commission power over rail-road rates. We have gone so far as to put the shipbuilding industry completely at the mercy of the executive, and, while agriculture is a bigger business than transportation, it is not so complicated.

The power to fix the minimum price of wheat is a great one, but the occasion is great enough to warrant placing the power where it can be most intelligently used. If the power is too great when exercised at the proper time by an executive with all the facts known, what shall one say about the same power exercised by congress when it fixes prices rigidly and by guess, far in excess of the harvest?

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE PREPARING OF THE LIBERTY BONDS

BY MILTON BONNER.

When Uncle Sam offered and the American people bought $2,000,000,000 worth of liberty loan bonds, the treasury department was compelled to give to its bureau of engraving and printing one of the biggest rush orders in history. That consisted of designing and printing over 6,000,000 ad interim certificates, 5,500,000 coupon bonds and 632,500 registered bonds.

The interim certificates, designed to give the subscriber a receipt until he gets his real bond, are simple pieces of printed paper. But it is different with the bonds themselves. These are made from the same kind of paper used in paper money and every step is as carefully checked.

The paper, when it comes from the mill in Dalton, Miss., to the bureau, is counted and the same thing applies as it goes along the road until delivered in perfected form to the secretary of the treasury.

Before that happens engravers have made elaborate designs for the various denominations, dies have been cut, soft steel plates have been impressed and then hardened. The paper itself has gone through a wetting process which makes it ready for what they call intaglio printing. Each power press, for the printing of the bonds, has a man who attends to the inked plate from which the engraving is printed and a girl helper who feeds the dampened sheets to the machine. The coupons are similarly printed in a different department and are then run through a perforating machine, after which they are fastened by clips to the bonds and then bound to them by tape. The signatures of the register of the treasury and the secretary of the treasury are not put on by hand. It would be too huge a task. The signatures are engraved on the plate.

When the completed bonds are delivered by Director Joseph Ralph, of the bureau of engraving, to the secretary of the treasury, he gets a receipt for them. Ralph's total receipts have to tally up with the amount of paper he received for printing bonds. The latter are all complete when received by the treasury department save for two processes. First, they are examined to see that they are perfect. The officials charged with this duty initial them.

The final process is when the great seal of the treasury is impressed upon them. After that they are ready for delivery to the federal banks.

Printed on top of each other, the coupon bonds would make a stack 7,500 feet high; the registered bonds would be 215 feet high.

If the sheets of paper used in the bonds were placed side by side, the coupon bonds would cover 335 acres, the registered bonds 10 acres.

Placed end to end the coupon bonds would make a 13-inch band 2,575 miles long; the registered bonds would make a band 75 miles long.

With Fingers! Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try it!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.
Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.
Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.
Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened calluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical.
Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle of the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

MORE TRAINING FOR FAIR HOME RESERVES

Another Federal Bulletin
Tells More About
Canning.

Marshalling the garden forces for a long drawn out attack during the snow blowing months, is the theme of the twentieth government bulletin to be delivered to the local food relief headquarters.
"How to Make Canning Count," is the subject of the treatise which has been prepared by two culinary experts. The chief object of the new book is to explain how to place two beans in a can where only one bean was squeezed in before. Systematic packing of cans is as essential as food conservation in the army.
An effort must be made to can all garden products, the bulletin points out. The canning should go on now because the turning point in the development of garden plants is already at hand. The new booklet and several others at the food relief office will be a great help to thrifty housewives. They can be had for the asking.

The bride was gowned in white satin made with a train and trimmed with pearl ornaments. The bride wore a veil and carried a bouquet of bride roses with a shower of swansonia. The maid of honor was dressed in a handsome gown of silver cloth and lace with trimmings of orchid satin and she wore a picture hat of white mauline with crown of orchid satin. A bouquet of Shawyer roses contributed to the pretty color effect. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride to the members of the bridal party and the immediate family relatives. A reception and dinner to seventy-five guests came off in the afternoon. A general reception was held in the evening. The Crystal Mandolin orchestra furnished music. Mrs. Elizabeth Burns, of Decatur, mother of the groom, was present, and a sister to the bride and her husband, who were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rollins, of Terre Haute, were also present. Mr. and Mrs. Burns are now at home at 1128 Barthold street.

The house was profusely decorated with gladiolus, the gift of a friend who has fields of the flowers and who cut several hundreds of them for the wedding. The bride made a fine appearance in her wedding gown of white lace trimmed with satin and with silk tassels finishing the satin girdle. The bridal bouquet was of bride roses and swansonia and the bride's veil hung in three points with a ruching of the tulle about the hair in the back and a crown effect of chintilly lace in front. Miss Heck was prettily dressed in white organdie handsomely trimmed with Venetian lace. After the wedding collation had been served, the bride and groom left for their home in the country, where Mr. Salomon has put up a new residence on his farm on the Dupont road, north of the city.

Woman Who Thinks and Plans Work, Rests

The woman who is always complaining about having too much work on her hands is always the woman who will not try to lighten her labors. In outlying sections where laundries are practically unknown, women still do their laundry work in the old way.

The best remedy is to wash the machine would save them a lot of hand work and unnecessary labor, never occurs to them. They do this work as their mothers and grandmothers did, before them, and could not be influenced to try any of the labor saving devices that are now found in many rural homes.

Women who do their housework unaided should try to make these duties as light and easy as possible. No matter how pressing her work may be, every stay-at-home woman should try to go out in the air for a certain period daily. In the over-busy woman finds she simply can not spare the time for an outing, she can at least stand at an open window for a few minutes now and then, and fill her lungs with clear, fresh air.

The sensible woman is not making herself and those around her miserable by complaining about what cannot be helped. She plans ways and means to make her work easy and congenial, and manages to conserve her strength—not waste it, and even housecleaning can be made easy if one goes about it in the right way.

FLOWERED CHINTZ JARS IF PAPER IS NOT PLAIN

When a bedroom is papered with anything but a plain or neutral paper flowered chintz should never be used, but often a little color is needed to add tone to the room. In a case of this kind, one of the new bedspreads which are so pretty and easily made is just the thing to give the necessary colors. Select a plain white spread of good quality. Cut from chintz a bunch of roses and baste, one in each corner, and a larger one in the center. Sew to the spread and finish the raw edge with a fine feather stitch or with a long and short buttonhole stitch. This idea can be carried out for scarfs to cover the dressing table and bureau. Make the scarf of linen cut to fit the top of each and finish the edges with a hem, and finish this with the stitch that was used on the spread. Cut out the flowers and applique to the edge of the scarf. Bunches of the same flowers can be added to the corners of white curtains with good effect.

MARABOU FOR TRIMMING ON NEWEST SWEATERS

No doubt as a consequence of the high and ever higher price of angora many of the newest sweaters now show a trimming of marabou. Especially attractive is a combination of soft brown with a yellow woolen sweater.

There is no reason in the world why the woman who is clever enough to knit her own sweaters should not also be clever enough to devise a marabou trimming from marabou bought by the yard.

Palm Beach cloth is the ideal summer wash fabric. Come in suits at $5; odd pants, $3 and $3.50.

USE YELLOW SOAP AND JEWEL WEED TO RELIEVE IVY POISON

The irritant poison of the poison-ivy which produces unpleasant effects seems to be an oil.

The best remedy is to wash the parts of the body which have come in contact with the poison-ivy with ordinary strong yellow kitchen soap and water, and then apply the juice of the crushed plant called the Jewel weed.

This is a bright green, juicy plant growing to a height of two to four feet in wet places and has an orange-colored hanging flower with brown spots on it.

Another remedy frequently found of value is the application of sugar of lead. This is poisonous, however, and should be used with care.

The only way to get rid of the poison-ivy plant is to keep grubbing it up by the roots.

Sometimes the irritant oil gets on the clothing, so that if this is used again possibly weeks afterward, the symptoms will reappear, though the patient may be far from where the poison grew.

The first symptom is a localized itching. Soon the itching area turns red. In a few hours fine water blisters, each smaller than a pinhead appear. After a few days the itching lessens and then the redness and swelling gradually subside.

If the itching part is scratched the fingers are liable to spread the infection to other parts of the body.

Gloves on the hands when one goes into the woods are the best preventive.

LOW PRICE MENUS NOT FOR GIRL WHO WORKS.

Every once in a while some one comes out with the statement that it is possible to live well on, say, 33 cents a day. The working woman, these enthusiasts will declare, can save largely on her meals, putting the money into something else that will give her a greater return or into the savings bank to provide for her old age. Most of these notions are impracticable.

A girl who is hard at work, whether in an office, a shop, a factory or wherever her hours are long and she must apply herself, needs good food and plenty of it. Perhaps you could get along for a bit on one of these menus, but soon the strain would begin to tell. You would lose your appetite because of the lack of variety in your meals, and your strength would follow. Don't experiment, girls, with any of these fads. Leave that for the women who don't have hard and confining work to do.

ALWAYS WEAR U. S. FLAG ABOVE OTHER INSIGNA.

Attention has been directed to the fact that wearers of the national colors frequently are guilty of unintentional disrespect to the Stars and Stripes.

A proper respect for the flag, it is pointed out, requires that it should be worn above or at the right of any other insignia or badge worn at the same time.

COOL HANDS AND HOT TOWEL BY THIS METHOD

When a very hot cloth is needed do not wet the whole cloth. Take hold of the ends, one in each hand, drop the center into boiling water and twist the cloth very quickly. The result will be a very hot cloth and cool hands.

NO STIPULATION AS TO SIZE OF NEW SAILORS

Even old friend sailor is putting on airs, and following the inclination of his smaller sisterhood. Sometimes sailors' crown is of hatter's plush, and the brim is in velvet or taffeta.

The semi-Breton brim is new and there are no stipulations as to measurement, since some are wide, some narrow and others of medium width.

We hear hints of the return of the felt hat, but we believe that these won't do, after our indulgence in the soft velours that are so attractive, that clean so well and appear rich and beautiful. Chapeaux for the present for garden parties and country club festivities are of organdies, malines or hatter's plush, nearly always in white, though the French rose and hortensia blue are having a merry time of it.

Hair braids through which sunlight and shadows fall are fascinating, but one wonders just how the lady's tan will spread. She may find herself with a flowered face. What if it should be polka-dotted? In which event she'd sport dancing smiles.

BRAN WATER SHOULD BE USED TO WASH CRETONNE.

Cretonne can be washed and ironed so that it looks practically like new. To do this, used bran water for the washing. When the cretonne has partly dried in the shade, iron it on the wrong side until completely dry.

Bran water is made by boiling a quart of bran in seven quarts of water for an hour and then straining it through cheesecloth and adding cold water to make it lukewarm. Use soap jelly with the bran water. To make the soap jelly, place shaved soap in a saucpan and add boiling water to dissolve it.

Rinse cretonne, after washing it quickly, in salt water to help set the colors.

IN THE CHURCHES

NOTED LECTURER AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Dr. B. T. Badley, of India, to Talk Tonight About Epworth League.

The Methodist young people and their friends of this city and vicinity will have the opportunity of enjoying a rare treat this evening, when Dr. Brenton T. Badley, general secretary of the Epworth League in India, will speak at the First M. E. church, corner East Wayne and Lafayette streets.

Dr. Badley has been in this country only a few months, and has many thrilling things to tell concerning the growth and work of the Epworth League "mid India's coral strands."

Can you imagine a real live Epworth League chapter in far-off India; one having a bible study class; classes on foreign missions; a singing band; doing active temperance work; maintaining a mercy and help department? Dr. Badley has come to bring Methodist young people a new vision and inspiration, by telling us of not one but hundreds of such Epworth Leagues in the land of the minaret and the pagoda.

What do the magic words, "The Mass Movement," mean to you? Dr. Badley has come to us from the land where people are turning to Christianity by hundreds; and thousands—a whole caste at a time! The story he has to tell is more wonderful than any you have ever heard.

Dr. Badley already has endeared himself to the hearts of hundreds of Methodist young people because of his magnetic personality and the compelling force of his message, and all those who are interested are invited to come and hear him.

Don't forget the time, the place and the event: Dr. Badley, First M. E. church, Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock.

In passing it might be well to remark that First M. E. church is one of the coolest places in the whole city, being well equipped with electric fans. No admission will be charged.

FALL SKIRT WITH MILITARY WAIST.

(By BETTY BROWN.)

This graceful, but serviceable skirt of black silk faille, for fall wear, has either a tunic at the back or an all-around tunic pointer on one side. It is a street costume with something of the elegance and "difference" of evening wear.

A timely and distinguishing touch is offered by the military blouse with epaulettes and braid, just suggestive enough of the spirit of the day without being glaring, or in poor taste.

CITY WATER FORCE LOW

Reservoir Being Filled to Remedy Trying Situation.

BURNING WEATHER TAXES PRESSURE

Evening Hours Bring Many Complaints From High Parts of City.

Do not waste a drop of city water. Pressure in city mains has been lowered to a faint pulse by the tax on the supply, due to the torrid weather.

Several thousand gallons more water was used on Tuesday than at any time before this year. As a result the pressure was lowered until residents in the higher sections of the city were left without water.

The telephone in the board of works office rang continuously Tuesday evening as citizens in the east end of the city were anxious to know the cause of the lack of water at their homes. More than two hundred calls were registered from the extreme east part of Fort Wayne and many citizens visited the board of works office in person on Wednesday morning.

The wasteful use of water between the hours of five and seven on Tuesday evening is given as a reason for the killing of the pressure. Everybody who had a hydrant at his home was out sprinkling the lawn and drenching the front walk in an effort to cool off the burning atmosphere.

Hundreds of barrels of water were used every minute between that period, water works employees say.

Much alarm was aroused because the reservoir, which insures a steady water pressure, is empty. The big tank was drained several days ago in order that work of placing a roof over the basin might be carried on more rapidly.

In order to stall off a water shortage for those who live in the higher regions of the city the reservoir is being filled. It will be many hours before the big tank can be fully filled as much water is being used every hour because of the hot weather.

The reservoir will fill rapidly at night and so is expected to be stocked with water by the week-end. The water in the reservoir will be used only for fire needs, but will give pressure to the city water mains.

Work of placing the steel roof on the big basin will be carried from place to place upon a large float, which is being constructed.

Members of the board of works note that the public make sparing use of the city water for a few days in order that the pressure may be maintained and threat of a water famine be stalled off until cooler days arrive.

NOTED EDUCATOR IS DEAD.

Philadelphia, Aug. 1.—Richard M. Jones, a widely known educator and for forty-two years head master of Penn Charter school, the oldest preparatory school in America, died at the University of Pennsylvania hospital today. Dr. Jones was the first school head to employ a professional foot ball coach, nearly forty years ago. Frederick L. Smith, who has been a member of Penn Charter faculty for twenty-five years, will succeed Dr. Jones.

WILL TAKE CHARGE OF GERMAN VESSEL

Sergeant Wort Ordered to Philadelphia For Naval Duty.

Sergeant I. R. Wort, for several weeks in charge of the Fort Wayne naval recruiting station, will be chief officer on an interned German trader, which is fitted up for transport service. Wort received his orders to report for duty at Philadelphia, Wednesday morning. He does not expect to leave Fort Wayne before the week-end.

The German merchant ship, which was seized at the time of the declaration of war is the Koenig Wilhelm II. It had once run the line of the British blockade. The ship had been in the Philadelphia harbor for three months before United States entered the war.

Now the sturdy craft is to be forced into war service for the allies. It's crew of Teutons is held under martial guard. Sergeant Wort has been picked by the war department to be one of the chief officers of the craft. Another recruiting officer will be sent here to take his place. The relief officer is expected by Friday.

YOUNG MEN BELIEVED TO BE AUTO THIEVES

Jack Duvall, of Akron, Ohio, and H. E. Eske, of Milan, Ohio, both about twenty-five years of age, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives at a street. They are said to have been having stolen the automobile Monday night at Akron.

ARGENTINE SOON TO DEFINE HER STATUS

Germany Had Begged Grace Until the German Reply Could Come.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Argentina is expected to define her position in the world war within the next few days. Official reports to the government indicate this and make it appear that the Argentine foreign office will not longer delay a statement of the status of the controversy with Germany over the sinking of Argentine vessels.

A short time before the American fleet visited Argentine waters it was announced at Buenos Aires that Germany had asked that no drastic move be made by Argentina until she had received the German reply. Argentina had intimated that unless prompt reparations were made, diplomatic relations with Germany would be broken. It is understood that the German answer is such that the Argentine government may feel warranted in further discussion of the subject. If the nature of the reply was conciliatory it is assumed that the Argentines refrained from making it public until after the visit of the American squadron.

While the active or even moral support of any nation would be welcomed with the active support of Brazil and the little nations in the neighborhood of the Panama canal the American government considers its interests in that part of the world are safeguarded, especially since it is assumed that Argentina under no circumstances would take a position more inimical than one of strict neutrality.

Chile's reluctance to assume a more unfriendly attitude towards Germany has not surprised the United States nor created the slightest resentment. It is realized that she has no diplomatic conflict and that her geographic position on the west coast makes it reasonable certain that she will have none. The political friendships in South America, however, are such that Chile can be counted upon to support Brazil should hostilities arise.

The attitude of Mexico is no longer one of concern to the government. Mexico's position is that she could not render any service commensurate with the obligations under which she would place the United States and the allied governments if she did adopt an unfriendly attitude towards Germany.

PROSECUTOR OF VIGO COUNTY IS INDICTED

Federal Bill Charges His Failure of Duty in Recent Draft Work.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 1.—William E. Horesey, prosecuting attorney of Vigo county, was indicted by the federal grand jury recently on a charge of having failed to advise the army conscription boards in his county as he was supposed to do under the terms of the conscription law and proclamation of the president, according to information which became public here today. Arrangement was made for Fred Creators, a deputy United States marshal, to go to Terre Haute this afternoon to serve the warrant on Horesey.

DIRECTOR BENTLEY VISITS RED CROSS

A. F. Bentley, state director of the Red Cross in Indiana, was in the city Wednesday afternoon and spent some time visiting at the Red Cross headquarters on East Bay street. There was no specific business connected with the visit of the state director, who simply stopped off here on a trip through the state.

On Wednesday night, examinations in the home care of the sick classes under Miss Frances Ott, will be held, and all members of these classes are asked to be on hand promptly for the examinations.

Women are urged to meet for Red Cross sewing at the First Baptist church, all day Thursday.

GOVERNMENT COTTON CROP REPORT ISSUED

Washington, Aug. 1.—This year's cotton crop was forecast today at 11,949,000 500-pound bales by the department of agriculture, which based its estimate on the condition of the crop on July 26, which was announced as 70.3 per cent of a normal.

The condition by states follows: Virginia, 75; North Carolina, 66; South Carolina, 74; Georgia, 69; Florida, 80; Alabama, 61; Mississippi, 74; Louisiana, 74; Texas, 68; Arkansas, 71; Tennessee, 71; Missouri, 78; Oklahoma, 77; California, 94; Arizona, 88.

MUST TEACH CITIZENSHIP.

Boston, Aug. 1.—An act passed by the legislature making it mandatory for public school teachers to instruct their pupils in the duties of citizenship, went into effect today. The law contemplates the establishment of miniature cities and states within the schools, in order to give the boys and girls training in the actual workings of government.

Building Permits. Building permits were issued to the Wildwood Builders for erecting houses at 618 Creighton avenue, 437 Creighton avenue and two residences on Wildemere drive. The houses will cost $2,800 each.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. John Steigerwald, 1338 Erie street—a girl.

Working in Park. Park workers are preparing to beautify the grounds of the new Weiser park addition. Filling of the cellars from which houses have been moved was started Wednesday. Grading work will go on Thursday.

Will Start Work. A letter from the Lake Shore railroad officials, received by the board of works Tuesday evening, stated that work is to be pushed at the Osgood street subway. A force of men will be here within a week to complete work on the superstructure at the street tunnel.

DRAFT BOARD MEMBERS BUSY

Many Questions Are Being Asked Concerning the Exemptions.

NO EXAMINATIONS BEFORE WEEK END

Large Per Cent of the Young Men Are Not Anxious to Serve.

Members of the city draft boards are answering the fire from hundreds of questioners Wednesday. Much of the time of the conscript board men has been taken up since early morning in responding to telephone calls and granting interviews with young men.

"How do I go about it to get exempted?" is the most common question, the draft board men say.

"Mighty few of the young men seem to be anxious to serve their country at the front," frankly spoke one of the conscription board members in speaking of the fellows who have engaged the attention of the city conscription commissions.

No physical tests have been conducted as yet. It is expected that no examinations will be held before the week end.

Draft board members continue to prepare the district orders from master lists. Work of getting ready for the examinations and exemption hearings will be carried on up until the first candidates for the draft army appear before the board.

MANY TRADES WILL TALK ABOUT TANKS

City Limits May Be Made Line Against Oil Containers.

The butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker will appear before the city council Wednesday evening, so to speak. Many traders have expressed their desire to have a part in the hearing regarding the placing of a battery of gasoline tanks inside the city limits by the Sinclair Oil company.

Property owners, merchants, real estate men, insurance men, gasoline dealers, taxpayers and a few other classes of Fort Wayne citizens will be represented in the special session of the city fathers. Ardent pleas for and against the right of the oil company to enter the city will be registered.

The council will repeal the present ordinance which gave the Sinclair company the right to place a battery of tanks along the Wabash railroad near Gay street. Stubborn opposition of Mayor W. J. Hovey is accountable for the change in attitude of the council members on the subject of allowing the tanks in the city.

Maybe the company will be allowed to install underground tanks on the site set for the array of gasoline containers in the first law. Contest against the company being allowed to enter the city will be bitter.

Mayor Hovey will appear in person before the council, it is expected. Officers of the oil company will be present, they have promised.

SAVE CITY WATER.

Extra Pressure Is Off During Reservoir Roof Building.

Every effort should be made to conserve the city water supply during the next few days, members of the board of works say. The heat oppressed public is using thousands of gallons more water every day since last week. On the other hand the reservoir is emptied during completion of the steel roof over the big basin.

The reservoir will be empty until Saturday, it is expected. The absence of water in the storage tank reduces the pressure in the city water mains and takes away the reserve force of thousands of gallons of water. Board of works men believe the city will be able to tide over the trying time if all care is taken to conserve the water.

Placing the roof on the reservoir should have been completed before August. Delay in delivery of steel pillars for supporting the roof is accountable for the hold up of several weeks. The big covering is expected to be in place in two weeks.

ONE DEAD, ONE BADLY HURT IN AUTO MISHAP

Kokomo Women Figure in Fatal Plunge Near Carmel, Ind.

Carmel, Ind., Aug. 1.—Mrs. James E. Hillis, 55, of Kokomo, Ind., was killed and Mrs. Edward Kane, 43, also of Kokomo, was injured seriously near here today when an automobile driven by Mrs. Kane turned over down an eight-foot embankment. Mrs. Robert Tudor, of Kokomo, and her mother, Mrs. H. T. Kirkpatrick, who were in the machine, were injured slightly. The latter two are from Chicago. A gust of wind lifted Mrs. Kane's hat from her head and she grabbed for it. The automobile struck a pile of sand near a culvert and then ran down the embankment. Mrs. Kane is at the home of Oliver Stanborn, near the scene of the accident. The women were on their way to Indianapolis.

WEATHER MAN SEES RELIEF

Showers Tonight, Followed by Lower Temperature, Is Promised.

BATTERY B MEMBER OVERCOME BY HEAT

July Brings Almost Five Inches of Rain, Establishing New Record.

Ninety-three degrees was registered by the official thermometer at the Fort Wayne office of the United States weather bureau at 2 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, and ninety-two degrees at 1 o'clock. There was one heat prostration.

Relief, however, is promised. P. McDonough, in charge of the local station, says cooler weather should come tonight. He is expecting rain and has so indicated in his official forecast.

The heat victim Wednesday was Waverly Schmidt, 25 years old, a member of Battery B. He was standing on the west side of the court house when he toppled over unconscious. The police ambulance took him to St. Joseph hospital where, at a late hour Wednesday afternoon he was reported as improved. His condition is not regarded as serious.

Elwood Blair, a painter, residing at 1224 Schillings avenue, was overcome Tuesday evening. He was engaged in painting at the time. His condition was much improved Wednesday.

One thing that made the heat oppressive, Mr. McDonough explained, was the fact that the humidity was high. When high temperatures prevail, the humidity should always be below 35 to prevent great discomfort.

July was a wet month compared with records of past years for same twelfth part of a year. During the thirty-one days 4.85 inches of rain fell which is larger by half an inch than the nearest figure of any year since records have been kept.

The highest point reached by the mercury during July was 95 degrees, while the lowest was fifty degrees on the eleventh. During the month there were nine clear days, eighteen partly cloudy and four cloudy days. It rained on eleven days.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT DENIES WAR STORY

Had No Conclave July, 1914, to Plan for Launching the Conflict.

Berlin, Aug. 1.—(Via Copenhagen.)—An official statement issued today by the German government says: "The Times (of London) and the enemy agencies following it are spreading a report about a conference alleged to have been held in the presence of the emperor of Potsdam, July 5, 1914, at which the political and military personages in Germany and Austria-Hungary took part and at which a plan was proposed to let loose the war."

"The Wolf bureau is authorized to declare the statements with all their details are pure inventions. Neither on the day named nor on any other day in July did such a joint conference occur, either with or without the participation of the emperor."

"Moreover, we again declare that the German government abstained from any intervention in drafting the Austrian ultimatum to Serbia and that the German government was completely ignorant of the contents of the ultimatum before its dispatch."

"The Times supports its false allegations on statements made by Deputy Cohen in the main committee of the reichstag. The statement of the deputy was immediately refuted in committee by the government as incorrect."

BOYS ENROLL NEXT WEEK

Quota in Fort Wayne Is 1,450 and in Allen County 210.

ONLY THOSE BETWEEN 16 AND 21 ELIGIBLE

Organization Is Non-Militaristic—Directors Named for Each County.

Indiana will be called on to provide 50,000 boys as her quota of the Boys' Working reserve of the United States. During enrollment week, August 6 to 12, the state authorities hope to obtain at least that many boys between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one years for the boys' reserve.

The quota for Fort Wayne, worked out on a population basis, will be 1,450. Allen county, outside of the city, will be expected to provide 210 more.

The organization is non-militaristic and that a boy who is enrolled may at any time, on the written request of parent or guardian, receive a furlough or be discharged. Directors have been named for the Boys' Working reserve in eighty counties in the state, and are actively engaged in preparations for making the enrollment of eligible boys next week.

Not only do the state authorities expect to enroll 50,000 boys next week, but they also expect to register every eligible boy in the state. This will be done in accordance with the recent proclamation of Governor James P. Goodrich, in order to make a complete survey of all the available man power in the state.

The quotas for the counties in this section, based upon one-third of the eligible boys, follow: Adams, 430; Blackford, 290; DeKalb, 450; Huntington, 340; Jay, 500; Kosciusko, 500; Lagrange, 270; Noble, 440; Steuben, 310; Wabash, 500; Wells, 360; Whiteley, 310.

STREET LIGHT RATE WILL BE LOWERED

City Plant Is Given Power to Drop Price $3 Per Year.

The rate for current for street arc lights is to be lowered from $53 a year to $50 a year. Authority to reduce the rate was given the city lighting plant by the Indiana public service commission on Tuesday evening. The decrease in cost of street light maintenance will become effective at once.

Petition for lowering the street lighting rate was filed by the municipal light officials a month ago. Action was not expected as yet. Result of the conference of the public service commissioners reached city officials Wednesday.

There has been no opposition to the petition for lowering street lighting rate before the state commission. A long battle has been waged over the request of the city plant to be allowed to reduce the cost of electricity to the public consumers, however. It has been desired to drop the commercial rate 1 cent but stubborn combat against the move has kept the public service commission in a state of inaction for nearly a year.

STOLE ONLY FROM BROKEN PACKAGES

Adams Express Company Thieves Made It Rule to Take Exposed Goods.

Mighty rough handling has been the lot of Adams Express company packages, according to stories being told in the city court by the six men who are charged with stealing thousands of dollars in property from the company. Five of the men who testified Wednesday all state that they only stole from bundles which had been broken open before the packages reached them.

It was the glint of silver and the gleam of gold, which sparked from a gap in the express package or the musical clatter of jewelry when a ring or pin fell from a damaged bundle that proved the undoing of the trusted express messengers, they all said.

The four men charged with petty larceny all pleaded guilty when arraigned in the city court Wednesday morning. Judge H. W. Kerr will fix their sentences on Thursday morning.

The petty larceny men, whose thefts are said to run between $15 and $20 apiece, are Floyd Schurz, 111 Masterson avenue, W. L. Wagner, of Van Wert, Ohio; R. F. Boehm, 829 East Washington street, and Harold Swank, Fort Wayne.

R. C. Maurer, 915 Barr street, charged with grand larceny, pleaded not guilty. Attorney A. L. Thomas is making a stubborn fight for the man. Hearing of testimony in the Maurer case has gone on for five hours. It will probably run well into the afternoon.

H. D. Korte, who lives on the New Haven road, has yet to be arraigned on a grand larceny charge. He is defended by an attorney.

Five lawyers are defending the six express messengers. The prosecutor's table was surrounded by the legal representatives and private stenographers connected with the represented law offices, wrote tirelessly. The basement court room was crowded. There was much fanning and mopping of brows.

Many chairs were occupied by relatives of the defendants. Parents of two of the young men were in court. Wives and children of the two other defendants were there. All of the express messengers are below forty years of age.

Hearings of those who pleaded guilty to petty larceny charges were brief. There were a few questions to bring out that the defendants were tempted beyond their strength and that they are now sorry for their misdeed and the same will never occur again.

Interest held with the trial of Maurer, which went on until lunch hour and was continued Wednesday afternoon. Special Express Detective P. V. Harrigan was given a most grueling test by Attorney Thomas. The detective was asked to recount his connection with Maurer's case from its inception until the present time.

Maurer told Detectives Biderman, Harrigan and Stahl that he has been stealing from the Adams company for eight years, was brought out.

"How much does he say he has taken?" Harrigan was asked.

"He told us about $3,000 worth," the detective replied.

Two large trunks were dragged into the court room just before the morning session closed. The big boxes will be opened late Wednesday afternoon. They will hold the silks and pictures and other articles taken from Maurer's house by the detectives.

Two heavy gold rings and charms, representing the Knights of Pythias and Masonic orders were placed on Judge Kerr's desk early in the hearing. All of the men tried on Wednesday admitted that they have safety razors which were stolen.

"Must have been lots of broken razor packages," commented Deputy Prosecutor Hoffman.

Smith Wins First for Chiefs but Evas Come Back in Second

Two Home Runs by Catcher Give Warriors Split in Double-header.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 1.—Only the hard hitting of Catcher Smith, of Fort Wayne, gave the Chiefs a split in the double header with Evansville here yesterday, the visitors winning the first game 3 to 2 and losing the second, 8 to 5.

In the first game the big catcher of the Chiefs poked out two home runs, which were enough to tuck the game away for the visitors. In the second game he continued his great hitting, getting three safeties, one a three-bagger. Even these were not enough to win this game, however, as the Evas, by virtue of some timely hitting off Cummings, scored eight runs, while the best the Chiefs could do was five markers.

Kowalski was on the mound for the visitors in the opening game and the Evas were aided to a victory by three double plays, all of which broke up the Chiefs on the part of the Evas. Smith got his first home run in the first inning, a long hit to deep center. He scored again in the sixth on two errors, a sacrifice and a fielder's choice. Evansville got a run in the third on a pass, an infield out, a single and sacrifice fly. Smith got his second homer, the run which won the game, in the eighth inning.

Cummings started the second game for the Chiefs, and though he did not allow as many hits as Turner and Winchell, who opposed him, the Evas got their hits when they were needed, scoring one in the first inning, four in the fourth and three in the sixth. Triples by Smith and Siegfried, a pass to Hoffman, Kelley's double and Siegfried's sacrifice, scored three for the Fort Wayne outfit in the fourth. In the fifth they had the bases filled with two out but Siegfried's long fly ended the inning.

LARRY MCLEAN

WALTER BENNETT

(By Paul Purman).

"Ball players"—now, no self-respecting ball player would masquerade in a leopard skin and go out trying to emulate Ruth St. Denis.

That's what an old-time ball player said when he lapped the accompanying picture and was asked whether he thought they were ball players.

"But," he added, frowning, "that big guy's face looks familiar."

Sure it did.

"That big guy" is none other than Larry McLean, former first string catcher of the Giants and Reds, 6 feet 6 in. in leopard skin or bathing suit and a little longer in spikes and spangles.

The other is Walter Bennett, formerly a COLLEGE MEN WANT

QUICK ACTION WAR

College athletics are used to action and when they get into government service they want to get action just as they got it on the football field.

That's why four college men in the naval reserve have asked to be transferred to the marine corps.

The men are "Cupid" Black, captain of the 1916 Yale football team; Charley Barrett, Cornell halfback, and one of the greatest football players developed in the east in a decade; Harold Early, a Yale baseball player, and Harry Sullivan, a baseball player from Georgetown.

"The marine corps gets quick action," said Early. "That's what we want. We might stay in the naval reserve a year without seeing anything more thrilling than a movie."

Dr. W. T. Ferguson will be at 249 West Main St. on Thursday, Aug. 2nd.

SPORT NOTES

More than 1,500 sportsmen, including many college athletes, have, it is estimated, enlisted in the government's service. Football players are most numerous.

Toronto cricket players intend to play matches against New York and Philadelphia eleven next September.

The Atlanta A. C. will stage the Junior and senior swimming championships of the Southern Amateur Athletic Union.

Bud Goodwin, of the New York A. C., who has never been beaten in a race of upward of one mile, began his seventeenth year recently by winning the quarter-mile Metropolitan district championship event.

Little Johnny McTaggart, considered by many followers of horse racing the best jockey since Tod Sloan finished his wonderful career, began his wage earning days as a messenger boy in New York. He was seventeen years old when he began as a jockey and weighed 89 pounds. Today he is four years older and can scale 103 pounds and be strong. Riding under the colors of R. T. Wilson and piloting such horses as the great Campfire, which won nearly $50,000 for his owner last year, McTaggart holds the hopes and fears of those who follow Wilson's colors every time he mounts a horse.

GOOD ENTRIES FOR PAPER MILLS STAKE

The Best Horses of Detroit Races Are to Run at Kalamazoo.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 1.—Six of the first seven horses to finish in the $10,000 M. & M. stake at Detroit last week are to compete again today here in the $10,000 Paper mills stake for 2:08 trotters.

Busy Lassie, the New Jersey mare with which Walter Cox captured last week's rich purse, is favored to win, although Al Mack, which took the first two heats of the M. & M. Miss Perfection, Lu Princeton, Ridgemark and other contenders in the M. & M. are entered in the fairly large field.

The other three races on the program are the 2:12 trot for three-year-olds, the 2:14 and the 2:17 pace. Each is for a $1,000 purse.

Only seven are qualified for the three-year-old trot, but the other two have considerably larger fields, with half-milers well represented.

Tramp-A-Bit was the surprise of the races here yesterday, winning three straight heats in the 2:11 pace, after finishing sixth in the first two. He was a rank outsider. Baxter Lou, who won the first two heats, was nearly distanced in the third.

Two favorites were winners in the other two races, Royal Mack taking the 2:17 trot, and Savoy the 2:05 pace. The winner of the last race was pressed in every heat, only winning by a head in every case. The Savoy was a heavily played favorite.

NATIONAL MORALITY THE GREATEST NEED

So Declares the National Christian Citizenship Institute at Winona.

Winona Lake, Ind., Aug. 1.—Moral-ity rather than economic or political advantage should govern acts of govern-ment, according to the speakers at the thirteenth annual Christian Cit-izenship institute which has just closed its sessions at Winona Lake, Ind. The institute was conducted by the Nation-al Reform association of Pittsburg, Pa.

The teaching of German leaders that "might makes right" and that there is no such thing as national morality was held to account for law-lessness of the German method of warfare. German philosophers and officials were flayed for inculcating in the German people a desire for war and lust for world power. It was said that when a nation believes that treaties are only scraps of paper, it is time to put that nation into the scrap-heap. When a government seizes the sword of unrighteousness, it will per-ish with the sword of justice.

Dr. James S. Martin, superinten-dent of the National Reform associa-tion, asserted that national sin brings on war. Germany has sinned in pride and in trust in force; Austria in un-just tariff discriminations against Serbia; Turkey in its treatment of the Armenians. The allies also are not guiltless nor is the United States, which has shown greed in the midst of European suffering and continues to license the liquor traffic. The world needs a new spirit. The standards of Christianity must pre-vail. As the acceptance and practice of Christianity prevents individual strife, just so the acceptance of Chris-tian principles by governments will bring world peace. These principles are those of justice, righteousness, good will and mutual helpfulness.

Delegates were elected at the in-stitute to the third world's Citizenship conference, which is to be held in Pittsburg, Pa., in July, 1918. This conference is called to consider the reconstruction of the world which will follow the war, and for the purpose of influencing the governments of the world to put their relationships on the basis of Christian principles. The last conference which was held in Portland, Ore., was attended by over 15,000 persons, and on its program fourteen countries were represented.

URGES MINISTERS OF STATE TO WAR WORK

Rev. Dr. Storms Says the Hour of Sacrifice Has Come to People.

Indianapolis, Aug. 1.—The state council of defense, through its public-ity committee, George Ade, chairman, today issued the following appeal: "The hour has come when sacrifice becomes a sacrament," asserts the Rev. A. B. Storms, of Indianapolis, a member of the state council of de-fense, and chairman of the committee on moral, religious and social forces, in a communication to the ministers of Indiana, directing their attention to the increased need of their services to the people in the present interna-tional crisis.

Urging the ministers to emphasize the righteousness of our cause and their congregations to keep in close personal touch with the young men who are called into the army, by send-ing them letters, books and papers, and that "all our people be constrain-ed to pray for the divine guidance of our leaders, for the moral strength of our people, for the triumph of right and the establishment of permanent peace."

The Rev. Storms' appeal says: "In this hour when the shadow of a great dread is resting upon mil-lions of American homes there is need as never before since the civil war of the moral strength which springs from religious faith."

"The spiritual resources of our peo-ple must be mobilized for the great struggle upon which we are now en-tering. The state council of defense asks that each minister in a brief pre-lude in connection with his public services emphasize from Sunday to Sunday such aspects of patriotic duty as seem to him most important, and, second, that support be given by all our people to the policies that are now and shall be advocated by govern-ment authorities looking to the con-servation of our national resources."

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

Here is told how to prepare an inex-pensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness of which it has been robbed by trying atmospheric conditions. Windchaffs, roughness, tan and red-ness are warded off and those tel-ltale lines of care or of age are soft-ened away.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quarter pint of the most re-markable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen-er and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.—Adver-tisement.

tory on the left bank of the Rhine. Inaccuracies and Lies.

"The chancellor's version contains gross inaccuracies and absolute lies, notably regarding the role he attributed to the president of the republic in giving an order to sign a treaty unknown to Premier Briand. The chambers know how things passed. M. Doumergue, ex-premier and foreign minister, after a conversation with the emperor, demanded and obtained M. Briand's authorization to take note of the emperor's promise to support our claims to Alsace Lorraine and to leave us free to seek guarantees against fresh aggression, not by annexation of territories on the left bank of the Rhine, but making an autonomous state of these territories, which would protect us and also Belgium against invasion.

"We have never thought to do what Bismarck did in 1871. We are therefore entitled to deny the allegation of the chancellor, who evidently knows of the letters exchanged February, 1917, at Petrograd and falsified since his most illustrious predecessor falsified the Ems dispatch. Whenever the Russian government is willing to publish these letters we have no objection.

Recalls March Speech.

"The chancellor refrained from speaking about my declaration March 21, wherein I repudiated in France's name any policy of conquest and annexation by force. He has willfully forgotten my language May 22, in the chamber, saying we were ready to enter into conversation with Russia as to the object of the war and if the German people whose right to live and develop peacefully we do not contest, understand that we wish peace founded on the rights of people, the conclusion of peace would thereby be singularly facilitated."

The declaration was frequently applauded and was not followed by debate.

tion against joining the conference with enemy delegates. Mr. Henderson has not publicly explained his change of views but it is known to be the result of his visit to Russia.

It is stated that the heads of the labor party officially accepted his advice which nevertheless seemed to have caused a crisis in the party which is now unanimous in the support of Mr. Henderson. The government has been closely questioned in the house of commons the last few days on the subject of Mr. Henderson's mission to Paris and the admission of Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, that it was settled without the government's knowledge and that the government was ignorant of what he was doing in Paris has increased the general irritation.

Causes Embarrassment.

Lobby correspondents say that the war cabinet, of which Mr. Henderson is still presumably a member, although his place was taken by George M. Barnes, while he was in Russia, is gravely embarrassed by the turn events have taken.

Mr. Henderson's fellow members of the labor party in the ministry who are as ignorant as the members of the war cabinet of Mr. Henderson's move, met in the house of commons last evening to discuss the extraordinary situation, but decided to await his return before acting. According to the lobby correspondents, however, it was at the same time resolved not to support Mr. Henderson. The affair has aroused considerable feeling, largely because of the association of a member of the inner cabinet with Mr. MacDonald and was to be raised in the house of commons today as a matter of urgency.

Senators Myers and Cummins both spoke in support of the resolution.

REVENUE BILL GOES SLOWLY.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Little progress was made today by the senate finance committee framing the new war tax bill. It held a brief session and because members desired to attend the prohibition debate in the senate adjourned until tomorrow when a sub-committee continues work on various tax revisions, including modifications of the Jones amendment, levying a 15 per cent tax on corporate undivided surplus. The provision to levy a 1 cent stamp tax on bank checks of over $5 estimated to yield between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000, is understood to have been repealed by the committee. If a bank tax is finally retained, it probably will apply to all checks whether under or over $5 and may be increased to 2 cents.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

tions particularly the former, in mind, is that the drive will be renewed as soon as the heavy guns are moved up in pursuit of the plan of driving a wedge into the German lines by successive strokes until a point is reached ed when the falling back of the enemy on a wide front will be forced.

The importance to be attached to a drive into German-held territory in this sector may be gauged not only by the reclaiming of Belgian soil from the invaders which it makes possible, but the threat it offers to the German submarine bases along the Belgian coast. A push much further eastward along the present line of advance will be bound to shake the security of the German coast line.

The desperation of the German resistance now manifesting itself in furious counter attacks, bears witness to the importance the German high command attaches to retention of the present front. This front has been shown to be not the rigid one the Teutonic claims have made it out. Badly bent by yesterday's attack, the immediate future is likely to show whether it can be strained to the breaking point.

Advices from the allied capitals point to the expectation of the battle opened yesterday continuing for weeks if not months. The French troops evidently were not brought up to the Belgian front, away from their former field of operations, for any brief effort at arms and the Paris comment on the offensive particularly points to the vast preparations made for it and the large results hoped for.

On the French front the Germans went on this morning with an operation they had been preparing in the Verdun region, launching an assault between Avecourt and hill 304 north-west of the Citadel, in an effort to regain the positions they lost on July 17. Only a few advanced elements of the French line, however, were reached by the crown prince's forces, the French fire stopping them short there.

SLAVS MAKE BIG GAINS.

Petrograd, Aug. 1.—A telegram from Jassy says the Russo-Rumanian advances through the Casin and Putna valleys resulted in the enemy losing between July 24 and 28, nine or eight guns and about 4,600 prisoners. The enemy front of about sixty kilometers was broken to a depth of between seventeen and twenty kilometers.

ANSWER TO DR. MICHAELIS.

Petrograd, Aug. 1.—Foreign Minister Tschernomirski denies absolutely the declarations attributed to him by Dr. Michaelis, the German imperial chancellor. He issued a statement saying: "The Russian foreign minister drew no protests or made any special declarations to the French government, beyond a general declaration by the provisional government respecting war aims which was generally made known July 18. This declaration, which was sympathetically received, will be thoroughly examined by the inter-allied conference to be held shortly."

A nice rest room, provided with lavatories, lockers, etc., will be located in the second story of the store house building, for the use of the women employed in the offices and store room. These women will be stenographers, clerks, draughtsmen, material distributors and work in any other capacity for which they may be adapted.

Master Mechanic E. E. Griest stated Wednesday morning that "It is not the intention to replace men in the employ of the company, but to enlarge the working forces. We have experienced a shortage of labor for several months and the shortage seems to be growing." Continuing, Mr. Griest said: "It is our intention to transfer men who are now doing work that can be performed just as well, and in some cases, better by women to work that women cannot perform and fill the vacancies with women. In all cases the women will be paid the same wages the men received for similar work. We want strong, healthy women, of course, but will always endeavor to give them work they can easily perform, and will allow them all the privileges of the male portion of the force. They will be eligible to the relief department benefits, without submitting to as rigid an examination as is the applicant of the opposite sex and the examinations will be conducted by the medical examiners in the presence of other women."

May Adopt Uniforms.

Regarding uniforms, Mr. Griest said that that question had not been fully decided upon. "We are considering the matter, however, and have about concluded to adopt a one-piece uniform that will be split to the knees and fastened at the ankles with buttons or buckles. However, it is not our intention to make it compulsory upon women to wear these uniforms. "We expect to have from 400 to 600 women at work in our shops within a few months. Applications can now be made at the office on Clinton street for the present and as rapidly as applications are made we will endeavor to put the women at work."

TORRID WAVE

SWEEPS LAND

terday was reported from Red Bluff, Cal., with 104 degrees. Relief by rains was promised for tonight in the west, but in the east little change was indicated and it was predicted the hot wave would continue until Thursday or Friday.

From Central Illinois on the west to New England on the east the area of highest temperatures extended today, while in other parts of the country the thermometer was far above seasonal average.

There has been some cooling by local thunderstorms in Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri and a part of Kansas. Showers are probable tonight and Thursday in Indiana, lower Michigan, Ohio, and along the great lakes. Elsewhere in the east the high temperatures will continue, but there may be some cooling in the north portions of the middle Atlantic states Thursday night or Friday.

SUN'S TOLL IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Twenty-one deaths attributed to the heat were reported in the last twenty-four hours and city health authorities predicted the deaths today would exceed that number unless the promised relief arrives before night. At 6 a. m. today street thermometers registered 85 degrees and the temperature was rising.

For the last two days the thermometer has reached 98 degrees in the shade and on Sunday the maximum was 97.

A cooling northwest wind later in the day brought relief from the heat wave which had gripped Chicago since Saturday. The government thermometer registered at 8 a. m. a drop of five degrees under the same hour yesterday. The heat caused thirty-two deaths and nearly 200 prostrations within the last forty-eight hours.

NEW YORK SWEATERS.

New York, Aug. 1.—New York continued to sweater today in the hot wave which has held the city in its grasp for the last two days. There was no relief in sight, according to early reports, while those who were forced to go to work sought surface and elevated lines in preference to subways. The countless thousands who spent the night in the parks or at the beaches were increased this morning when weary train leaving the city carried hundreds seeking relief from the heat in the pavements in the downtown districts. Late reports from various sections of the greater city placed yesterday's heat victims at 14 dead and 188 prostrations.

Hottest city in the United States at 8 a. m., New York was visited just before noon with a thunder storm, hardly big enough to be dignified with the name, but sufficient to cool off temperature and bring a measure of relief to sweltering millions. Since 2 a. m. 25 persons had died from the heat and nearly three score were prostrated, most of them dropping in sun-baked streets. The thermometer at 8 o'clock was 88 degrees; an hour later it was 93, but when the thunder shower came, though with but a few drops of rain, the mercury, which at 94, dropped back to 88. The heat became intense later, however.

AT INDIANAPOLIS.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 1.—Despite the fact that temperature records at the Indianapolis weather bureau office today showed one degree more heat than in the early hours than at the same hours yesterday, relief is in sight, according to J. P. Armington, meteorologist at the local station. He said that reports showed cooler weather in the west and he expected the cooler breezes would reach Indianapolis before the day was over. Heat prostration was reported early today.

HEAT SLAYS IN PITTSBURGH.

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1.—Four deaths early today increased the number of victims of the heat wave in Pittsburgh to twenty-four. A revised list showed that fifteen deaths were attributable to heat yesterday.

MANY DIE IN DETROIT.

Detroit, Aug. 1.—Ten deaths and nineteen prostrations in the last twenty-four hours is the toll attributed to the heat wave that has prevailed here for several days.

FATAL TO THIRTEEN.

Philadelphia, Aug. 1.—Additional deaths during the night increased the list of yesterday's heat victims to thirteen. Of the 100 or more who were prostrated several were reported early today to be in a serious condition, and it was feared some of them would not recover.

From midnight until noon today 26 additional deaths due to the extreme heat were reported to the coroner, making a total of 39 deaths for two days.

tinued to go as well as they did yesterday.

COUNTER-ATTACKS REPULSED.

London, Aug. 1.—German counter-attacks yesterday afternoon and last night against the new British positions at LaBasse, Ville and north of the Ypres-Comines canal in Belgium were successfully repulsed, says the official statement issued today by the British war office.

Another German counter-attack further north in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Roulers railway was crushed by the British artillery. Heavy rain has been falling since early yesterday afternoon, the statement adds, and the weather continues unfavorable for operations.

IT WAS A TOUGH JOB.

British Front in France and Belgium, Aug. 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—Welsh troops yesterday added a new star to their crown for it fell to one of their regiments to administer a crushing defeat, in General Haig's great offensive, on the third battalion of infantry guard, which was Emperor William's crack body. The terrain in this part of the zone presented tremendous difficulties for the attacking troops. Between Dixmude and the point where the Ypres-Comines canal crosses the lines on the lower part of the Ypres salient, two great forces had been imbedded for three years and this portion of the line had come to be looked upon as an impenetrable position for either side.

Tremendous Difficulties.

The present battle between Dixmude and Lizerne was a "tough job" with "brilliant" and "valorous" troops, which in winter months are impassable. This formidable natural barrier was rendered still stronger by the inundation of large areas by the release of waters from the canals. The Germans and allies alike, seeking bits of dry land for a footing, swung so far apart in some places that the distance between the lines was nearly three miles. Below this section opposing lines followed either bank of the Yser canal and then went on the Ypres salient, face to face, but with the Germans holding the dominating high land about the salient.

The Dixmude-Lizerne sector of the front is a wilderness of partly inundated fields dotted with pools of brackish water and cut into strange shapes by drainage ditches. There are but few remaining civilian habitations in this no man's land. Crumbling cottage walls and an occasional roofless church rose above the flats.

Neither side feared a surprise attack of a trench raid. Since Duke of Wellington's troops were swallowed up in the flood let loose by opening up the sluice gates in October, 1914, the enemy had not tried to cross the marshes nor had they tried to get over the Yser since the Belgians in the spring of 1915, after sanguinary fighting, flung them back across the bridgehead at Lizerne.

German Hold Advantage.

The Ypres salient itself furnished as hard a problem as could be presented to an attacking army. The country here is saucer shaped and the Germans had held the lip of this saucer. All the lower lying lands within this dish had been dominated by the enemy who could send a stream of shell and machine gun fire into the troops and supply columns advancing across the salient.

The situation was rendered still more difficult by the presence within the saucer of a large number of water ways that must be crossed by means of bridges which might at any moment be destroyed by gun fire. This difficulty, however, was overcome by a brilliant feat of the British engineers who threw seventeen bridges across the water ways in the face of terrific gun fire.

Similar and equally remarkable work was done by the French engineers who were forced to bridge the Yser for their attack.

Knew Attack Was Coming.

The Germans little feared an attack, but that the battle would turn in the direction of their right wing. It was early in June that rumors of the impending attack began to find their way to German ears and were voiced in Berlin. Gradually the rumors assumed certainty and the Germans began to strengthen their defenses by pouring large numbers of fresh forces into Flanders and bringing up all available guns. The surrounding country was evacuated of civilians and stripped for the conflict.

The Germans knew they faced an offensive. They were unable with all their cunning to gather more than a fragmentary idea of the story of these preparations which is in itself a marvelous one. Day after day the building up of new armies continued under cover of a unique concealment in plans.

Big Guns; Shells by Millions.

Enormous numbers of great guns made their way to selected positions and were mounted on concrete foundations laid long before. Millions of shells which are today turning the German front into an inferno of death and destruction were brought up and stored while the enemy watched with unseeing eyes. Long lines of dreaded tanks took the road and the living monsters crawled clumsily but persistently northward to take their place in the allied battle line. Clearing stations were established at vantage points and everything possible was done to care for the stream of wounded men which was sure to result. All this and much more went on for weeks before the offensive was launched. The Germans were like a man who waits with tense muscles in the dark for the attack of an unseen foe, knowing the oncoming must come but ignorant of the moment or nature of it. The thoroughness of preparation is one striking characteristic of the British method and it is safe to say that there is not one man but had rehearsed the part he was to play in the opening stage of the great conflict.

THE GERMAN VIEW OF IT.

Copenhagen, Aug. 1.—The German semi-official preliminary report on the British offensive printed today under the headline "Before Great Infantry Attack," stated that front positions were converted into shell hole fields and that battery stations were ringed with shell craters. The German artillery, despite the terrific bombardment by shells of all calibre up to 15-inch and the lavish use of gas, had not let up a minute and was successfully combating the British fire, the statement says. The British batteries were obliged to pause from exhaustion on the 29th until midday when they attempted to escape punishment by smoke screens. The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger's military correspondent says that the offensive was delayed and weakened by the submarine campaign. England consequently is not Germany's superior in artillery and aviators and battalions at the front are on a reduced footing because of the need of workmen in home munition factories. Major Morait in the Tages Zeitung intimated that before the attack General Haig, despite weeks of cannonading, had been unable to effect adequate infantry preparation and was afraid to attack.

MAJORITY ARE ENGLISH.

London, Aug. 1.—According to reports from special correspondents the great majority of British troops engaged in the latest assault are English, although there are some Scotch and Welsh and Australians.

It is said the Germans are employing a new scheme of defense, which apparently depends principally upon organization for counter-attacks. They now diminish their garrisons and by the same amount increase the strength of their supports and reserves who hold rear lines in force and who are organized for immediate attack.

As an instance of the terrible pounding by the British artillery it is said to be known that the crew of one German battery had to be replaced nine times and the guns thereof five times.

LULL CAUSED BY RAIN.

The British Front in France and Belgium, Aug. 1.—Heavy rain, which continued in an unceasing downpour since last night, transforming the battle ground in Flanders into a sea of mud, has forced a comparative lull in the operations this morning. Generally speaking the situation early today was unchanged along the British front. Several German counter-attacks were repulsed during the night and the heavy artillery duel continued, but the movement of big guns has been rendered most difficult by the rain. The German artillery actively today shelled the trenches, which were wrested from them yesterday in No Man's land, about the salient and the British guns continued to pour a steady stream of shrapnel and high explosives into the positions to which the enemy had retired.

The air squadrons on both sides were rendered helpless by the storm to assist in the direction of artillery fire.

FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT.

Paris, Aug. 1.—After the magnificent success of the French and British in Belgium yesterday, the official statement issued today by the French war department, the entente troops in a torrential rainstorm consolidated the positions which they had captured.

After several days of artillery preparation the Germans this morning attacked the positions on the left bank of the Meuse river in the Verdun region which the French had captured from them on July 17. The French official statement says the Germans were only able to reach certain advance elements of the French line, where they were stopped.

CORN REACHES NEW HIGH WATER MARK

Another Jump Brings Price
to $2.06—Potatoes in Slight Drop.

Corn continued its upward climb Wednesday morning, the highest mark reached being $2.06 per bushel. This is the highest price that has been paid for corn this spring. Six loads were sold at the city scales, ranging in price from $2 to $2.06. Another big supply of new hay was weighed, thirty-two loads selling from $8 to $12 per ton. Four loads of the old hay brought $17 per ton. Two loads of oats sold at 77 and 80 cents per bushel.

One dealer quoted a price of 40 cents per peck for new potatoes Wednesday, a mark which is five cents a peck lower than the former price. Eggs remained at 37 cents per dozen. There is a scarcity just now in lemons and watermelons, owing to the extremely hot weather. Lemons have soared greatly in price during the past few days.

CRUEL FATHER FAILS TO INTIMIDATE JUDGE

Frank Finney Gets Month in Jail and Fine for Assault.

The unquestioned despot of his home is Frank Finney, 40, who lives near the city limits on Russell avenue. All the courageous spirit of his wife has been lost in the fifteen years of associating with the cruel man. The woman moves like one in a stupor and as one from whom personal ambition has been beaten out. The three daughters of Finney are nerve shocked and frail.

Finney was arrested in police court on a charge of assault and battery Wednesday morning. He had been arrested upon complaint of neighbors who told that he had savagely beaten his nine year old daughter, May, on Monday afternoon. No voice of protest has dared to come from the covered members of Finney's family.

Attorney Frank Kleekamp represented Finney in the trial. There was little defense to offer after members of the family had reluctantly told of brutal attacks of the father.

Mrs. Finney, a mere shadow of a woman, was called to the stand. She told of finding the dark blue mark on her daughter's back after she had returned home from work Monday.

"Your husband has beaten you also, hasn't he?" queried Deputy Prosecutor Hoffman.

"Yes, but that makes no difference," came the faint reply.

In answer to a direct question Mrs. Finney admits that she does not know how many times her husband has struck her.

May, aged nine, a dwarfed, thin, sweet eyed little girl, was questioned. She explained that she had followed her father's orders and had washed his dirty socks Monday. Then she mended the socks, she told. Finally she asked to go to the show. Her father struck her on the head and back at that time, she said. Neighbors who saw the pitiless assault called police.

May has a blue mark on her forehead, a brand which will go with her through life, and which results from her father pushing her against the stove one day last winter when the mother was sick and the little girl was trying to get breakfast for the thankless father.

Judge H. W. Kerr started a bitter prelection as soon as Attorney Kleekamp rested his case and the father had said he did not care to testify.

"If I ever hear of such treatment from you again your family will not see your brutal face for many months," said the judge.

Finney was fined $10 and sentenced to thirty days in jail. He will be in jail for a month and a half.

We just received by express 500 Palm Beach suits which we will sell at $8.00. Sizes to fit every man.

GLASS JARS IN GREAT DEMAND

People Purchase Fruit Cans Who Have Never Bought Them Before.

CANNING RUBBERS
FIND READY SALE
Ft. Wayne Housewives Show Patriotism in Aiding Food Conservation.

Glass fruit jars and rubber rings are in great demand all over Fort Wayne and merchants state that people who never thought of fruit jars and canning rubbers before are now purchasing them by the dozen lots.

One merchant who deals heavily in this kind of ware stated that he had sold more fruit jars and rubbers thus far this year than he had during the entire season in former years.

Prices on these goods have not advanced much over last season's price, regardless of the fact that the demand is much greater. One Fort Wayne merchant stated Tuesday morning that he had received reliable information that glass factories which manufacture the jars are working night and day to satisfy the great demand all over the country.

Within the inside circle of these facts comes the happy realization that Fort Wayne women particularly are demonstrating their loyalty to their country by aiding materially in the conservation of food which has been urged by leaders throughout the United States.

The rush to can fruits and vegetables also comes as a result of the canning demonstrations which were given in this city by a Purdue representative under the auspices of the food relief committee and the economics department of the Women's Club League.

DIVER ARRIVES TO SEARCH FOR BODY

States He Will Find Edward Huber in Three Hours' Time.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Angola, Ind., Aug. 1.—A diver from the Great Lakes Towing station, at Toledo, arrived here Wednesday afternoon with his outfit to resume the abandoned search for the body of Edward Huber, of Fort Wayne, who drowned at Lake James Sunday afternoon.

He immediately went to the scene of the drowning and after looking over the situation stated he would have the body to the surface in three hours time after he began his work.

All efforts on the part of the searchers who have labored for two days were futile. Fifty pounds of dynamite were used in an effort to bring the body up. People who are acquainted with the lake state that at the place where Huber is supposed to have drowned no one has ever touched bottom.

The mother of the drowned boy, nearly frantic with grief, implored the husband to secure the services of the diver, who arrived today.

MILLIONS OF STEEL PROFITS TO NATION

Excess Profits Tax Brings Over $53,000,000 Into Federal Treasury.

New York, Aug. 1.—The enormous sums which the big industrial companies of the country will pay to the government in the form of excess profits and income taxes was strikingly illustrated when the United States Steel corporation issued its financial statement for the second quarter of the year. Total earnings for that period were reduced to $90,579,204, after deducting $53,918,872, or about 37 per cent, as the amount which it is estimated will be turned over to the government.

An additional allowance of $33,855,000 was set aside from earnings of the first quarter of the year for war taxes and excess profits, that amount being based on the tax proposed early in July, but not yet finally adopted.

But for the huge tax to be imposed by the government, total earnings of the steel corporation for the second quarter would have amounted to $144,498,076, exceeding the previous high record of the preceding quarter by more than $31,000,000.

Net income for the second quarter fell by reason of the heavy tax appropriations from $103,830,194 of March 31 last to $74,425,053 and $40,955,761 surplus for the quarter compared with $69,836,981 three months ago.

Monthly earnings of the corporation for the second quarter show a steady decline compared with those of the first three months. June, for example, amounted to only $32,027,300, as against $44,377,393 in March. This apparent reversal is accounted for, however, by the attitude adopted by the corporation, which rejected much new business to meet possible demands of the home government.

The extent to which the corporation is preparing for all eventualities is disclosed in the statement that during the first six months of the current year $43,000,000 was expended for new construction and additions to its many subsidiaries.

On the basis of the taxes already set aside, the steel corporation expects to turn over to the government during the present year approximately $200,000,000. This exceeds total earnings of almost any year prior to 1916, but leaves a balance, at the present rate of almost 50 per cent, applicable to the common stock.

The usual dividend of 1 1/4 per cent. on preferred stock and 1 1/4 per cent. on common were declared, with an "extra" 3 per cent. on the common, as in the previous quarter.

The fire burned the roof off the kitchen of the jail and filled the building with smoke, making necessary the transfer of twenty prisoners to other buildings. Hughes is said to have confessed that he started the fire. The trusty said he discovered this morning that Hughes had prepared other incendiary materials and was about to light the fire when apprehended.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE MAY PROVE FAILURE

While Condition Is Serious, Imogene Myers Has a Chance for Recovery.

While her condition continues critical, Imogene Myers, who attempted suicide late Tuesday afternoon by swallowing a quantity of bichloride of mercury tablets, was thought to be resting easier Wednesday afternoon at St. Joseph hospital. The attending physician says she has a chance for recovery.

The girl, who came into the limelight in connection with the case of John H. (Sammy) Koehler, who was found guilty in the circuit court of criminally assaulting her, suffers intensely. That it was bichloride of mercury that she took has been fully established, it is said. At first there was some disposition to doubt it. Bichloride of mercury acts slowly and for that reason the outcome cannot be determined.

The girl took the poison while her mother, Mrs. Florence Pettit, her grandmother, Mrs. Ike Dollard, and her aunt, Blanche Dollard, were drinking at the fountain. Ten minutes later she complained of severe pains in her stomach. Ten more minutes spent in the rest room of the court house brought no relief. She was then taken to the office of Dr. J. W. Bowers, where only a half hour previously she had had her burned fingers treated.

At the doctor's office she refused to tell what she had taken and it required the assistance of another man to administer an antidote because of her resistance.

Imogene is said to have burned her hands some time early Sunday morning when she slid down a rope from her room. She did not return home until several hours later.

After escaping from her home, Imogene went direct to the home of Mrs. Emma Henning, Koehler's sister, at 712 Ewing street, to the surprise of Mrs. Henning, who had no previous knowledge of her coming. Another witness, whose name has not been revealed, was present during the entire time Imogene was at the Henning home. So far as Koehler is concerned he did not see the girl and has not been at the Henning home for several weeks.

Immediately upon the girl's arrival there, which was about midnight, Saturday, Mrs. Henning called Judge S. M. Hensch, her attorney, at his apartment, and asked him what she should do. The judge told her to send her home, which she did. The girl's hands were bleeding profusely from the cuts and burns sustained in sliding down the rope at her mother's home. Mrs. Henning dressed them as best she could, then virtually made the girl return to her mother, though she protested vigorously.

Imogene has talked of taking her life several times. She told a newspaper representative who interviewed her at the county jail where she was held previous to the trial that she wished she was dead. She also is alleged to have asked her aunt, Blanche Dollard, to take the poison with her and make it a double tragedy.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 1.—After the body of Edgar Erlenbach, 12 years old had lain twenty minutes at the bottom of a pool at a stone quarry, a pulmotor brought back signs of life and for a time it was thought his life would be saved, but he succumbed three hours afterward. Physicians said life would have been restored if the boy's heart had been normal. He was unable to swim and stepped off into twelve feet of water.

PARTY OF MASKED MEN IN BUTTE DO A BIT OF HANGING

Frank Little, Who Said Soldiers Were
"Uncle Sam's Scabs in Uniform,"
Swings From a Trestle.

THEORY, I. W. W. HANGED HIM AS SPY

Butte, Mont., Aug. 1.—Frank Little, member of the executive board of the Industrial Workers of the World and a leader in labor troubles in Arizona, was taken from a lodging house early today by masked men and hanged to a railroad trestle on the outskirts of the city.

The body was cut down at 8 a. m. by the chief of police, Jerry Murphy, who identified it.

Little, in a recent speech here, referred to United States troops as "Uncle Sam's scabs in uniform."

Since his arrival in Butte recently from Globe, Ariz., Little has made a number of speeches to strikers, in all of which he attacked the government and urged the men to shut down the mines of the district. He was bitter in his denunciation of the government, whose attention had been called to his activities. On the other hand, the report was current that Little was in the employ of a detective agency and one theory was that he was the victim of the radical element of which he appeared to be a member.

Little took a leading part in recent labor troubles in Arizona. He addressed a letter to Gov. Campbell, of Arizona, protesting against the deportation of I. W. W. members from Bisbee. This letter was written from Salt Lake. Gov. Campbell replied, telling Little he resented his interference and his threats. Little was understood to have the confidence of Wm. D. Haywood, secretary of the I. W. W. national organization and was regarded here as one of Haywood's confidential agents.

Little was a cripple, but active and a forceful speaker.

Withdrawal of Armies Is Designed to Leave Old
Greece to Greeks.

Athens, Monday, July 30.—Withdrawal of the allied forces from old Greece, Thessaly and Epirus, in accordance with the decision of the Balkan conference at Paris is being rapidly carried out.

The last Franco-British troops left Piraeus today. The withdrawal from Corinth and other points was previously executed.

The Italians are similarly preparing to leave Janina and other sections of Epirus retaining only a small triangle near Avlonia in Albania.

The unanimity of the allied action is a source of satisfaction as the Italian aspiration desired a wider field but yielded in the interest of the united action to withdraw all and leave Greece to the Greeks.

Preparations are under way to call out the classes of 1916 and 1917, aggregating 60,000 men. The Greek government is highly gratified at the result as showing the allies are recognizing the territorial integrity of Greece.

London, Aug. 1.—The fact that a member of the cabinet, Arthur Henderson, minister without portfolio in the war council, had gone on a mission to Paris with the pacifist, Ramsey MacDonald, member of parliament; George James Wardle, chairman of the labor party in the house of commons, and Russian delegates, aroused great irritation among the members of parliament and seems to threaten trouble in the government. The purpose of the journey is to confer with French socialists in regard to the proposed conference of allied socialists at London and the subsequent international conference at Stockholm.

Changes His Views.

The crux of the matter lies in the fact that Mr. Henderson since he returned from Petrograd reversed his attitude on the question of the British labor party and socialists meeting the German representatives at Stockholm and now advises them to rescind the former resolution.

GREAT DRIVE IN FLANDERS WILL BE THE BIGGEST

GERMAN COUNTER-ATTACKS REPULSED

Paris, Aug. 1.—The battle of Flanders has begun and indications are that it will be the biggest battle of the war. The offensive of the French and British allies had been expected for some weeks past for although the French and British official communications gave no inkling of it the German reports showed clearly a large scale operation was in progress.

The French public, however, did not know that French troops had been dispatched to share in the assault. Originally, the front from the North sea coast to Ypres had been held by the French in the Neuport region then by the Belgians as far as Elverdinghe and then by the British.

The British troops later relieved the French and part of the Belgians along the coast. It is thoroughly recognized here that the operation is only the beginning of a battle that will last weeks, perhaps months, but it is also hoped and believed that its effects will be in proportion to the extraordinary care and vast scale on which it has been prepared.

The first part of the program has been carried out with complete success and in a way which augurs well for its accomplishment as a whole. A glance at the map is sufficient to show the importance of the operations now under way. What has been effected fully justifies the German apprehensions and the French jubulations. French military observers say it is not too much to hope that the Germans may soon be cleared out of France and Belgium Flanders if things continue as they are.

Summary of the Day's War News

With a wide stretch of territory and more than 3,500 prisoners in their hands as the result of the first day's fighting in their new offensive the British and French troops in Flanders spent last night consolidating their gains and repulsing the inevitable German counter attacks.

The new line which along the greater part of its stretch is two miles to the old and includes ten captured towns within its limits, has been firmly held along the entire front.

The consolidation process is being carried out under a torrential rain which is hampering further operations. The extent of the advantage gained by the smashing of the German lines in this important sector of the front will have to be judged by further developments. Definite objectives were assigned the various allied units for attainment in the first day's stroke and these appear to have gained almost in their entirety.

The logical supposition with the history of the Somme and Arras operations.

Thus far it has been found that the information in a large percentage of the letters has been correct and as a result of such voluntary aid to the government hundreds of slackers have been placed on the registration rolls. The letters come from all classes of persons, some of them anonymous, and a large percentage from women.

Dr. Michaelis wore a captain's uniform, giving the Berlin Vossische Zeitung the opportunity to scoff at the worship of epaulettes which puts a leading statesman in line officer's uniform, but says that there is little doubt that Chancellor Michaelis, like Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, ex-chancellor, and Herr von Jagow, former minister of foreign affairs, will be speedily promoted to more adequate rank.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has opened the doors to female labor wherever it can be advantageously employed. This action follows a very discouraging effort to supply the shops, offices, material yards and round houses with male labor. This has been far short of the demand for some time and is becoming more serious as the days advance.

Master Mechanic E. E. Griest, stated Tuesday morning that it had been decided to employ women at the shops and provision for handling them is now being made or has already been made. At the east car shops women will be employed for cleaning up around the yards, assorting "scrap" steel and iron, as material distributor in the store room, cleaning cars, washing windows and many other tasks now performed by men. #### EXEMPTIONS IN PITTSBURG WILL RUN FIVE IN SIX

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 1.—To provide Allegheny county's quota of 11,000 men for the first increment of the national army, draft board officials here believed it would be necessary to call 60,000 registrants. Indicated exemptions are averaging five out of every six examined, they say.

W. R. Costes, secretary of the Ninth war exemption board, declares feeling is running high among those whom his board has examined because of the exemption of aliens.

"Because they believe these foreigners should also be liable for service, every man who can possibly do so is making a claim for exemption," said Mr. Costes.

FRENCH AIRMAN BAGS FIFTIETH GERMAN PLANE

Paris, Aug. 1.—Capt. George Guynemer, one of France's leading aviators, has brought down his fiftieth German aircraft. The French aviator had been sick in the hospital in the latter part of July after scoring his forty-sixth, forty-seventh and forty-eighth victories, but on July 28 he returned to duty, half cured, with the famous "stork squad" and on the same day brought down one machine north of Ypres, Belgium, and another, the fiftieth, close to Southuist forest.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

THOMAS S. FOX IS NEW TRAINMASTER

Has Been With the Grand Rapids & Indiana for Seventeen Years.

Thomas S. Fox, who has been acting trainmaster of the G. R. & I. for the past three weeks, has received notice that he has been appointed to the office, the same becoming effective today. Mr. Fox succeeds Richard E. Casey, who was called to the superintendent of the northern division of the system July 9 to succeed the late James W. Hunter, whose tragic death in a hotel elevator at Grand Rapids occurred a month ago. The news spread rapidly through the office of the G. R. & I. and the Pennsylvania and created universal satisfaction, for the appointee is the friend of all. Mr. Fox was considered the logical appointee by all familiar with the situation.

Thomas S. Fox has been with the Grand Rapids and Indiana road seventeen years. He has a long desire for a job on the railroad when a lad and during a temporary sojourn at South Whitley, learned telegraphy at the station of the Nickel Plate, though he never was in the employ of that company. When the operator at South Whitley learned that positions for operators were open on the Wheeling & Lake Erie road, he recommended Thomas, who went to that line and made good. Then he took employment on the C. H. & D. and worked there until seventeen years ago, when he came to the G. R. & I. and became a brakeman. Three years later he returned to the keys, but was soon transferred to office work in the capacity of chief clerk to Superintendent E. Casey. Some time later he took the position of chief clerk to Superintendent E. H. Hudson and five years ago became assistant trainmaster. During his service in that capacity he was called upon to act as trainmaster on occasions when Mr. Casey would be out of the city. His work demonstrated his efficiency and led to his being selected for the responsible office he now assumes. The appointment of Mr. Fox is just what would have happened had the matter been left to the wishes of the employees and friends of the new trainmaster. He is deservedly popular with them.

NEW CHIEF CLERK ARRIVES.

C. N. Brentlinger, who succeeded W. L. Wilt as chief clerk of the motive power department of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, arrived in his city last night, and this morning assumed the duties of his office. He has been here frequently and knows the motive power offices, and was given a hearty greeting by the men. Mr. Brentlinger succeeded at Toledo by Mr. Releensneider, late of the purchasing department offices at Pittsburgh.

SHOPMEN INJURED.

Three employees at the Pennsylvania shops were unfortunate yesterday inasmuch as they sustained injuries which will disable them for some days. H. W. Weisbart and J. S. Cramer each had a hand cut, and William L. Bond sustained other injuries.

Edward A. Lehneke, G. R. & I. Conductor, Dies After Brief Illness.

Edward A. Lehneke, 47, a conductor for the G. R. & I. railroad company for the past twenty years and residing at 719 Hugh street, died at his home Tuesday morning at 3:30 o'clock. Death followed a brief illness and will come as a shock to all who knew him. Mr. Lehneke had complained of not feeling well for the past week, but remained at his work and took out his last run only Saturday. On Monday afternoon while in the house he suffered a slight attack of heart trouble. He fainted and when he was picked up he was unconscious. He remained in this condition until death relieved him. It is thought that death may have been due to heat prostration.

The deceased was born and reared in Fort Wayne and had resided here practically all his life with the exception of a few years which he spent on his parents' farm near the city. He had been in the employ of the railroad company for twenty years and was widely known in railroad circles. Five years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Louise Forrester, of Milwaukee, who survives as do three brothers, Clarence and Leonard, of Fort Wayne, and Otto, of Pittsburgh, and one sister, Mrs. D. F. Waymors, of Turlock, Cal.

Mr. Lehneke was a member of the B. P. O. Elks and the Order of Railway Conductors. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed but the body will be sent to Milwaukee for interment.

FOOT CRUSHED BETWEEN BUMPERS.

Howard Wolford Meets With Painful Accident.

Howard Wolford, Nickel Plate brakeman, who had one of his feet injured Saturday night when the member was caught between bumpers when the slack of the train was taken up near Stony Island, is now at his home, on Ewing street. After the accident Mr. Wolford was taken to the Hammond hospital, where he received attention from the company's surgeon and Sunday night he was brought here and is now under the care of Dr. Dinneen. Unless complications set in, the injured member will be saved.

SHOPMAN RETIRED.

J. Ulrich, a member of the Pennsylvania east car shop, was placed on the retired list today. The veteran is 70 years old, and has been in the service of the Pennsylvania for many years. His fellow shopmen made him a farewell gift at closing hours last night. The Sentinel published his record several weeks ago.

NEW ELECTRIC HEATERS.

The city cars are to be heated by new electric heaters instead of the old anthracite heaters, according to an announcement by the traction company. The new heaters are to be put in for two reasons, because of the scarcity of coal and because the fumes of the old heaters were often offensive.

WILL ORGANIZE REGIMENT.

The Chicago railroad regiment, the third reserve engineers, is being rapidly enlisted to full war strength. Applicants are being received on an average of seventy-five per day. The regiment will receive its preliminary training at the municipal pier, prior to its departure for France.

HAD THUMB CRUSHED.

C. A. Hockemeyer, of the General Electric works, had a thumb crushed while handling castings yesterday. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where Dr. F. J. Schulz amputated the thumb at the first joint. The patient is doing first rate and will be at work again in a few weeks.

DRILLING TWICE EACH WEEK NOW

Bowser Military Club Fast Becoming Efficient in Military Tactics.

The Bowser Military club is having two drill nights this week, instead of one. Monday night is their regular drill period, but an extra session will be held Friday night of this week. The company will "fall in" at 7:30 on the vacant lot directly south of the Western Gas Construction company plant. Special drills are being practiced for Whinona day, which is next Saturday, the 4th, and all members are urged to be on hand Friday night.

A great deal of work is also necessary, planning details for the Petey Dink ice cream social and band concert to be held at Swinney park, August 9th.

Everybody is going to have a good time the night of the 9th, and lots of fun. There will be plenty of seats for all, so those who wish to rest can. There will also be plenty of diversions to suit a crowd such as is expected that night.

This is the first affair of this kind staged by the Bowser Military club and it promises to be a complete success in every way, says C. M. Smith, who takes a prominent part in the affairs. With the proceeds the club expects to equip themselves for more aggressive training, so that when some of the boys are called they will at least know the elements of military training.

BOY IS TAKEN HOME; FATHER GOES TO JAIL

Piercetown Man Arrested for Driving Car While Intoxicated.

Police will conduct the small son of Frank Humphreys, of Piercetown, to the boy's home. The lad will tell that father is in trouble and will need $50 to get out of jail. Frank was fined $50 and costs and his auto license was ordered revoked because he tried to pilot his machine when he was intoxicated Tuesday afternoon.

Humphreys was arrested when his car wobbled into the ditch near the Standard Oil company's tanks on the Piercetown road. His 8-year-old son, Harold, was with him. Harold went with papa to jail but could not be placed in a cell with his father. The boy was placed in a rooming house Tuesday night and Wednesday was taken home. The father will remain in jail until money for his fine is returned.

Walker Crooked. William Hicks did not follow the straight path when he was released from the county jail Tuesday. He went out to the barn, near the jail, and threw an auto blanket over his arm. He was halted as he walked away with the blanket.

Sheriff Gille was in court Wednesday to identify the property. Hicks goes back to jail for thirty days and until a fine of $10 and costs is served. Was Dummy's Fault.

Four men charged with driving to the left of the traffic sign at Wells and Putnam streets told the metal cop had been moved to the right of the street and that passing it was impossible. Judge Kerr released the offenders with orders to not repeat the act. Those who were not penalized were Robert Turner, of Ossian; O. C. Moyer, 2006 Broadway; Elmer Springer, Huntington road, and R. J. Schwab, 133 Washington boulevard east. H. L. Moore, 133 Washington boulevard east, did not appear in court. He was ordered to appear before the judge on Thursday.

Wife Must Be Actually Dependent to Save Husband From Army.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Hasty marriages made since July 20, the date of army draft drawing, in an effort to escape conscription through the claim of a dependent wife, will not be considered sound for discharge unless the wife is actually dependent on the husband's daily labor.

Prompted by reports from many cities of marriage license bureaus besieged by men included in the first draft call, Provost Marshal General Crowder has ruled that "marriage is not of itself a valid ground for making claim for discharge."

Dependency is a matter of fact, not of law, General Crowder pointed out.
"A man whose wife is mainly dependent on his daily labor for support," he said, "may claim exemption on that ground. Only the exemption boards can determine this fact. Where dependency is claimed on a circumstantial show a marriage hastily consummated since July 20 by a man whose number is high in the available list, the actual fact of dependency must be closely scrutinized. Moreover," says General Crowder, "women who marry men merely to aid them to be slackers, are liable to prosecution under the draft."

In his ruling General Crowder adhered strictly to President Wilson's draft regulations which draw no distinction between a dependent wife acquired before or after the drawing.
Secretary Baker had advocated refusing exemption to any man married after the drawing.

HIGH TRIBUTE PAID STATE UNIVERSITY

Washington, Aug. 1.—Tight tribute to the accomplishment and the part played in national life by the state university is paid by the chamber of commerce of the United States in a special report today based upon an extended investigation.

The report declares that although the state university has alike the faults and failings, the virtues and accomplishments of democracy, it is more and more creating distinct fields of endeavor and thus enlarging to many those opportunities of higher education which would otherwise be denied them.

"The state university," the report says, is assisting the legislature in formulating advanced legislation, affecting the relations of the commonwealth with public utilities, is giving women of many states education to fit them for economic and political life and is doing much to educate the farmers in the science of modern agriculture.

Huntington, Ind., Aug. 1.—The Huntington Red Cross shipped 319 articles Monday to the warehouse in Fort Wayne. Orders for the mobilization ground until ordered to Fort Benjamin Harrison. The gas company will pipe gas to the company kitchen, and the city will provide water for shower ler, son of Joseph Shiedeler, deputy county auditor, is home from Montgomery, Ala., on a furlough. Shiedeserve corps, has received blank applications for volunteer automobile truck drivers for service in France. Fred Bechtold, of near Bippus, after several weeks' anxiety, has learned that applicable to Huntington county, and the names of the men as they were

LIKES ARMY LIFE.

Decatur, Ind., Aug. 1.—Gabriel Everett is in receipt of a letter from Telle
Everett, who is with Company D, Fourth Indiana, now located at Gettysburg, Pa., in which he writes enthusiastically of army life. "I suppose you would like to know about the army life. It is something that every young man should take up. The report that one doesn't get enough to eat and that the place to sleep is dirty, is untrue. If you don't get enough to eat it is your own fault; and as to the bed and clothing, it has got to be kept clean for everything is inspected every day and it is seen to that it is clean."

ABANDON FAIR FOR SOLDIERS' CAMP.

GIANT DETECTOR TO DEFEAT SUBMARINES

New Device Raises Hope
That U-Boat Answer
Has Been Found.

Washington, Aug. 1.—The navy department has prepared a comprehensive plan, according to Secretary Daniels, for protecting American shipping against submarines until the time arrives when the allied council decides that a great offensive must be directed against the German bases, or until inventions which now are being worked out are ready for operation.

As already announced, the navy department is working on a giant detector which its originators believe will assist greatly in solving the submarine menace. Rear Admiral Grant, under whose direction the detector was first experimented with, has reported to the department that he believes in the immediate future results may be expected of the subsea device.

Get U-Boats at Bases.
While the details of the detector cannot be published, it may be stated that the navy department expects it to be effective over a distance of approximately five miles. It justifies these expectations it is the intention of the department to stretch the device across the waters in the vicinity of the German bases and thereby locate submarines as they start out.

In the meantime the department intends to rely upon armed guards and convoys to protect shipping.

Slow Ships the Only Victims.
Officials call attention to the fact that no American ship with a fair rate of speed and properly armed has been sunk by a German submarine. The sinkings have been exclusively confined to slow ships or to unarmed ships.

The department is satisfied that if methods of arming ships as employed by this government the rate of destruction of all except extremely slow craft would be greatly reduced. Officials here know that Great Britain satisfies itself with placing one gun on a ship manned by a scrub crew, while this government carries numerous guns of the most approved type, manned by

THE CENSORSHIP AGAIN.

There appears no way to end the confusion that attends an attempt in Washington to impose a censorship on the news. The censor puts his indication on news that the executive departments give out freely to the newspapers and holds up intelligence from abroad that has been readily passed by censors on the other side.

This absence of teamwork is not merely confusing; it is irritating. It puts newspapers, correspondents and the great news-gathering associations up in the air, gives rise to feeling and starts disputes and quarrels besides resulting in misunderstandings out of which some newspapers gain a little and others lose something. The other day the war department sought to hold up news of the arrival of another American contingent in Europe after the announcement had been passed by the censor abroad. The account was very meager and wholly dark as to time and place. The Associated Press declined to kill its brief dispatches, holding that it might properly distribute them according to previous understandings had on matters of the sort. These dispatches contained no information of military value to the enemy.

Yesterday the censor in Washington sought to interdict the publication of several items of news after they had been given out to the press by the heads of departments in which the matters described had been dealt with. There appears to have been no reluctance by the departments to make public the executive acts told of and on their face there appears no reason why there should have been hesitancy of the sort. But the censor took a different view of it—perhaps because he did not know the department heads were responsible for the publicity given the affairs.

The vast majority of newspapers in America have no wish to print intelligence that may embarrass the government or may disclose facts of value to the enemy. They have proved that with the heartiest spirit during the past three months. They will not abandon or in the least degree abate their self-imposed restrictions. They will cheerfully accede to all requests of the government for the suppression of news that might work harm if published. There ought to be, however, some better grade of distinction as relating to what news should be suppressed and what published, just as there should be a more workable understanding between the censoring functionary and the departments in Washington and the news censors abroad.

Whatever plan is adopted ought to be devised and applied with a view to its uniform effect upon all newspapers and news-gathering agencies. The loyal newspapers of the country will not object to any reasonable measures provided all are touched alike by them.

PERHAPS NOT FATAL, BUT COSTLY.

The recreant Russians are still on the run in Galicia and those not on the run because of recreancy are swept along by the dual motive of attempting to stem the great skedaddle and to avoid capture by the superior enemy. Just when and where this is going to stop and what the cost of it all will have been found to be when inventory can be taken it is impossible even to guess. That it will stop some time somewhere can be imagined. Russia will have a return of its senses and a new vouchsafement of war spirit sooner or later.

her armies were equipped with big guns, field artillery and munitions of all sorts that placed them upon something like even terms with the enemy. Loyal to their cause, the Slav soldiers had it in their power either to inflict disaster on the foe in the east or to make it possible for France and Great Britain to inflict it in the west.

Then came the long weeks of inactivity when the Russ drowsed the time away in his trench imagining vain things or in fraternizing with his foe out on no-man's land. The advent of Kerensky put an end to this and a thrilling offensive was launched the first of July. Successes were brilliant and important until the moujik, still possessed by his dreams or poisoned by anarchists and traitors and agents of the enemy, took it into his whirling head to run away. The results, while spectacular and rich in material for an unprecedented page in the history of wars for human liberty, are such as to vastly bedevil the whole situation. As his American brother in arms will tell him if he ever gets to the Russian front, the pretty idealism or the blanked bone-headedness of the moujik has "gummed the game." And that in a word is the fact of the matter. The flight of hordes of Russians from the field has enormously increased the difficulties of the allies and correspondingly improved the position of the Germanic coalition.

The resources of Russia in men and the thorough fighting spirit of them when well aroused, together with the capacity of the allies to finance the war and furnish ordnance and munitions, will enable Russia to come back strong and conquering whenever her sane leaders are able to check the crazed following after anarchists and hireling altruists sent among the soldiers of the new democracy. Russia has prolonged the war, but it still is possible for Russia to gather herself together again for the delivery of a smashing stroke at a time when, with America really in the war, stout blows will be telling wherever delivered.

SAVING THE COUNTRY.

It will pay to have your own canned stuff stored in your cellar this fall. It will be a national service also to do this. In the first place the commercial products may not be so abundant on grocery shelves as has been the case always heretofore. The government will make huge requisitions on canneries for food for the armies and for the country's allies. America never has experienced such a demand for foodstuffs as there is every promise of being the coming winter and it will be well to reinforce the usual supplies with what the housewives of America can preserve, both of vegetables and fruit.

It is made clear by all accounts from practically every part of the country that a prodigious crop of vegetables has been grown this year. Fruit is not so abundant as has been the case in some other years, but there is merely a shortage, not an actual scarcity. The most should be made of both crops. The more food there is preserved in home kitchens the more there will be to spare for the armies and the hungry people of some of the European countries. There will be prevented a demand calculated to put prices to a figure that might prove a downright hardship to a large percentage of the American people and might be prohibitive in the case of a great many.

It has been ceaselessly emphasized from Washington and from the headquarters of the Indiana council of defense that one of the great patriotic duties of the hour is to make an assured abundance of food secure before winter sets in. To the housewives of Indiana falls the duty of performing the state's bit in this regard. There seems to be a very general response to the call, but it should be remembered that this is a matter wherein there scarcely is the possibility of the thing being overdone. Food preserved is money saved, and it also is going to have the additional meaning of life saved as well. The more we can spare for use abroad the less will be the suffering and starvation in Europe.

Those to whom the preservation of food is a new undertaking can get all necessary information with little trouble. Reasonable attention to the newspapers most likely will provide a fairly liberal education along that line. The department of agriculture is prepared to furnish free of end of printed information to all who request it. The nation has no greater resource in war than its ability to feed itself well and to aid in feeding its allies.

Again the "biggest battle of the war" and perhaps the "decisive engagement of the conflict" is in progress in Flanders. We've had several of 'em heretofore that like this one have been marked by fine initial smashes, gain of ground and then a deadlock. Here's hoping this is the thing the others were thought to be and were not.

In a good many cities it is disclosed that about five out of every six registrants is claiming exemption on one ground and another. That is a bit discouraging, but a ratio of ten to one can be stood.

The process is slow, but attrition from the white house is gradually wearing away the lines of German defense in the senate.

"Fare, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones: all the good ones, and the bad ones—get on here!"

AN ATTEMPT AT A SONNET—"TO REM."

Transferred to Arcady by wings electric,
I left the Stygian caves of this dread place—
Forsook the fevered mart, the highway hectic,
And gazed with happy eyes upon thy face.
With thee, on Ossian mount, I was all mute
As gods strolled by in robes of poetry;
With thee I listened to the sweet, far lute
Of Keats' immortal bird in cypress tree.
We looked in vision down the centuries,
And bulged temples in thine Arcady;
And, on the hills of Hellas, felt the breeze
That came from some far, cyclad-dotted sea,
Where our poetic, youthful Argosies

—W. B. G.

Picture.

"But the trees are full of variety. They change with the season, and show their sympathy. They spread out their skeleton arms over the snow-covered landscape in the winter as though they were blessing it. They seem to smile in the early spring, and the slender twigs appear to have almost a living sympathy with the time. Then with what a glorious burst of breezy laughter do they welcome the warm south wind of July!"

—The Gentle Philosopher.

Transfers.

Ohio State Journal says: "Attrition is to decide it, and perhaps the last 500,000 bushels of paragraphs will win the war."

Personality says: "The faithful watch-dog is apt to see so many things that aren't there."

Pittsburg Gazette-Times says: "One thing is certain, the supply of contemporary history is greatly in excess of the demand."

Now, This Seems Pretty Bad.

Gila Monster sends us the following monstrosity: "It is rumored that a certain fastidious young lady of Fort Wayne kneads bread with her gloves on. Very peculiar fact, indeed—but there are others. We need bread with our shirt on, and we need bread with our pants (slee) on, and the time is coming by the look of our bank account and the high price of clothes and haberdashery, when we will need bread with nothing on, save the raiment of Adam."

They Can Be Found.

"Indeed I do. I have a friend who said he had a friend who had a friend that said he had heard a friend say he wanted work last winter."

Are very much related;
They both repeat themselves too much,
And thus get sorely hated.

Help For B.

He—Blinks is a new man, and all of the fellows are trying to give him a helping hand.
She—Yes, and the girls are encouraging him, too.

Culinary.

"I suppose," remarked the misused wife, weeping softly in the reserve fold of her mended glove, which served for an Egyptian tear-bottle, "that when I go to the Smiths in this dress I'll be the laughing stock."
Her husband paused carefully before taking his customary chew of tobacco, then he made a frightful grimace, just as all budding humorists do.
"Ha!" he replied, "if that is so you'll be jolly well in the soup!"

We Can't Even Write Checks.

Admiring Friend—Do you think that all you write possesses permanent value?
Famous Author—Oh, no—only my checks.

Humors of Our Enemies.

Hindenburg—What's this? Haven't you killed all the women and children?
Officer—Nain, lord alwhiskers. These Americans have nine lives.

Should Be Strung Up, Not Hung Up, by Gosh!

E. S., who seems to be as busy as we are just before the presses begin to grumble, writes in great agony: "I'm rather put out (not the wash, of course) because my wash, by Gosh! got caught in the rain today, without an umbrella to bless itself with. Son has gone to the show, but I am remaining at home to pray for sunshine so I may have the exquisite pleasure of hanging up the wash, by Gosh! again."
Gosh darn such a wash! Eh?

MAY BE HARD TO EXPLAIN.

(Gary, Ind., Tribune.)

We fear that the justices of the Indiana supreme court who strained themselves to find sound legal reasons why the people of Indiana should be deprived of electing delegates to a constitutional convention will find it rather difficult to explain their decision when it comes to the primaries for re-nomination.

The tone of the solid newspapers of the state, those which really influence public opinion, is not all favorable to the decision. It is only that the present war situation has detracted attention from the issue of a new constitution that the supreme court judges have escaped censure as well as they have. By the time another primary comes round only the decision itself will be remembered.

STUNNING THE KAISER.

(Kalamazoo Gazette.)

It is certain the vigorous steps taken by the United States to get effectively into war have stunned with surprise everyone from the Kaiser to his humblest subject. The situation should be one for satisfaction among the allies, we believe, and particularly for America.

German Census Lied to Fool Europe; Kaiser Has More Troops But Poorer

By L. HARPER LEECH.

How many Germans are there in Germany? This question has acquired a new significance from various reports of German reserves far greater than calculated on the basis of the German census.

The discussion of Germany's reserve troops has assumed there are about 70,000,000 Germans—but several weeks ago Switzerland reported Germany has falsified her censuses since 1875 to catch Europe off its guard.

These reports placed the actual number of Germans at $5,000,000 when the war began.

A returned Belgian relief commissioner, familiar with conditions in England and Germany before and during the war offers some opinions backed by personal observation.

"Germany has been lying about her population," he says. "As a matter of fact about 800,000 young men come of age every year, which indicates a population in excess of 80,000,000."

"As to her reserves, they are undoubtedly larger than calculated by the French general staff. When we left Belgium there were many more German troops on the western front than at any other period of the war."

"Quantity is not worrying the German high command—but quality and morale are lacking."

"The new troops are of poor physique, a large part of them boys without sufficient nourishment during adolescence. They have had no butter, fat and little meat. A boy needs the most intensive feeding from 14 to 18."

"The younger Germans are not comparable to the older for physical stamina. Since Germany became an industrial nation the physique of the people has been declining rapidly."

"The much talked of German social conservation measures did some good. Probably the German working classes were slightly better fed than the English, and better housed, but not much."

"Since the war, the condition of the people has gone downward while the British physique has improved."

"The war will prove the making of the British working class. It has higher wages and better food. The reverse is true in Germany."

"The British people also had a great advantage in moral stamina. Germany was becoming vicious and depraved. Immorality and illegitimacy flourished."

"The machine-made life under strict regulation caused this, and the low estate in which women are held in Germany fostered it."

"Immoral publications were allowed, and the government seemed to think that the prevalence of vice would keep the people from thinking about politics, and alloy discontent. The Russian government followed the same line—adding to it anti-Jewish agitation."

"Degeneracy and perversion were on the increase in Germany and the country was the most immoral in Europe. There was little sense of individual responsibility. It was impossible to keep up the older codes of individual morality. Religion had lost its hold."

"While the birth rate among the lower classes continues to be enormous, race suicide among the wealthier and more sophisticated classes was as prevalent as in France or America."

"All these things are beginning to tell on the strength of the race and can be seen mirrored in the degenerate, ready and underfed boys now crowded into the German regiments."

SOME FACTS ABOUT THE PREPARING OF THE LIBERTY BONDS

BY MILTON BONNER.

When Uncle Sam offered and the American people bought $2,000,000,000 worth of Liberty loan bonds, the treasury department was compelled to give to its bureau of engraving and printing one of the biggest rush orders in history. That consisted of designing and printing over 6,000,000 ad interim certificates, 5,500,000 coupon bonds and 632,500 registered bonds.

The interim certificates, designed to give the subscriber a receipt until he gets his real bond, are simple pieces of printed paper. But it is different with the bonds themselves. These are made from the same kind of paper used in paper money and every step is as carefully checked.

The paper, when it comes from the mill in Dalton, Miss., to the bureau, is counted and the same thing applies as it goes along the road until delivered in perfected form to the secretary of the treasury.

Before that happens engravers have made elaborate designs for the various denominations, dies have been cut, soft steel plates have been impressed and then hardened. The paper itself has gone through a wetting process which makes it ready for what they call intaglio printing. Each power press, for the printing of the bonds, has a man who attends to the inked plate from which the engraving is printed and a girl helper who feeds the dampened sheets to the machine. The coupons are similarly printed in a different department and are then run through a perforating machine, after which they are fastened by clips to the bonds and then bound to them by tape. The signatures of the register of the treasury and the secretary of the treasury are not put on by hand. It would be too huge a task. The signatures are engraved on the plate.

"When the completed bonds are delivered by Director Joseph Ralph, of the bureau of engraving, to the secretary of the treasury, he gets a receipt for them. Ralph's total receipts have to tally up with the amount of paper he received for printing bonds. The latter are all complete when received by the treasury department save for two processes. First, they are examined to see that they are perfect. The officials charged with this duty initial them."

The final process is when the great seal of the treasury is impressed upon them. After that they are ready for delivery to the federal banks.

Piled on top of each other, the coupon bonds would make a stack 7,500 feet high; the registered bonds would be 215 feet high.

If the sheets of paper used in the bonds were placed side by side, the coupon bonds would cover 335 acres, the registered bonds 10 acres.

Placed end to end the coupon bonds would make a 13-inch band 2,575 miles long; the registered bonds would make a band 75 miles long.

One hundred and twenty tons of ink were required to print the coupon bonds and 4½ tons for the registered bonds.

Impressions required to execute the coupon bonds were 65,400,000 and for the registered bonds 1,650,000.

Seven freight cars were used to haul the paper and four tons of engravers' steel was used for the dies, rolls and plates required.

FIXING THE PRICE.

(Terre Haute, Ind., Tribune.)

The price of wagon wheat in Terre Haute today, $2.25, would indicate that the law of supply and demand is not adjusting itself very rapidly to the announcement that the senate has fixed the price of wheat at $2. After considering $1.75 as the minimum price the senate increased the figure to $2. By what magic the senate reached the conclusion that $2 will be a fair minimum price at any time in the future we do not know. It is not known yet what the harvest will be, and much less what it will be known what the corn fields have in store, and the price of one kind of grain has its effect upon the price of the others.

The senate thinks, apparently, that too much power will be given to the executive if the price is left open to be determined when all the factors affecting prices are known. The country has not feared to give the interstate commerce commission power over railroad rates. We have gone so far as to put the shipbuilding industry completely at the mercy of the executive, and, while agriculture is a bigger business than transportation, it is not so complicated.

The power to fix the minimum price of wheat is a great one, but the occasion is great enough to warrant placing the power where it can be most intelligently used. If the power is too great when exercised at the proper time by an executive with all the facts known, what shall one say about the same power exercised by congress when it fixes prices rigidly and by guess, far in excess of the harvest?

With Fingers! Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus right off. Try it!

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug freezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of freezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying freezone or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

TWO OUT OF NINE TO BE CALLED SOON

Physicians Between Ages of 22 and 55 Will Be Subject to Draft.

Fort Wayne will be called upon to furnish a number of additional physicians for the national army. The government is preparing to call, by selection, two out of every nine physicians between the ages of 22 and 55.

The government must furnish 24,000 physicians and 120,000 enlisted men in the medical department. Half that number of each will be needed by October 1. The rest must be available when the troops are overseas.

The first 12,000 physicians are in sight and work is being pushed to bring the second 12,000 into training. As fast as shelter is erected prospective medical officers are going into training camps at Fort Reilly, Fort Benjamin Harrison and Fort Oglethorpe at the rate of 300 a day.

Only trained men will be sent with the troops.

"Seeing is believing." When your own eyes see the roots come out, you know the entire hair is gone, not merely the surface hair. You know that hair can never return.

Yes, it is really true that the new phenol method removes superfluous hair completely—roots and all—without the least injury, leaving the skin soft, smooth, hairless. You do the work in a jiffy, in your own home, without assistance. It does away with numerous and expensive visits to the electrolysis expert. Does away with depilatories or shaving at frequent intervals. Nothing like it ever known before. Perfectly harmless, odorless, non-irritating. ## Your Every Day Needs During The Month of August

Are well provided for here. August is usually considered a dull month—it's not so here. We keep things moving by keeping things that move. So the store throughout the summer is kept well stocked with goods of passing fashion as well as the staple lines that are required one month as well as another.

The Best Bargains of the Year

Come in August, for it is our season for clearing up many lines of goods in all parts of the store. Summer goods are cut most deeply, of course, and while you may not have the same choice as the early buyer, the difference in price will more than make up for it.

A Glimpse of the New

Already the first fruits of the fall fashions have been plucked and are now on display. There is this early a very interesting showing of advance models in ready-to-wear apparel.

The IDEAL FIRELESS COOKSTOVE

By All Means Attend Tomorrow's Demonstration

Each day sees the attendance grow larger at the fireless cooking demonstrations which are being held this week, so ably presided over by Mrs. Fauver, America's highest authority on fireless cooking and a culinary expert of wide renown.

"BETTER THAN THE COOKING SCHOOL," said many of the ladies.
Each day Mrs. Fauver prepares a wholesome, inviting meal and her guests (the ladies in attendance) are served at the conclusion of her address. The cakes are lovely—the pies too delicious to describe—the roasts tender and savory!

FIRST DEMONSTRATION AT TEN O'CLOCK.

Followed by another at two o'clock in the afternoon. Let nothing keep you away tomorrow. You can well afford the time to hear Mrs. Fauver explain and demonstrate the principles of fireless cooking.

Another Federal Bulletin
Tells More About
Canning.

Marshalling the garden forces for a long drawn out attack during the snow blowing months, is the theme of the twentieth government bulletin to be delivered to the local food relief headquarters.

"How to Make Canning Count," is the subject of the treatise which has been prepared by two culinary experts. The chief object of the new book is to explain how to place two beans in a can where only one bean was squeezed in before. Systematic packing of cans is as essential as food conservation in the army.

An effort must be made to can all garden products, the bulletin points out. The canning should go on now because the turning point in the development of garden plants is already at hand. The new booklet and several others at the food relief office will be a great help to thrifty housewives. They can be had for the asking.

Holiday-Wagner.

Burns-Slater.

Miss Velma Leone Slater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Slater, of 1125 Barthold street, and Mr. McClellan Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michale Burns, were married in the Cathedral at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, by Rev. John R. Quinn, who also celebrated the nuptial mass. Miss Mabel Burns, of Decatur, a niece of the groom, and little Alma Slater, a niece of the bride were attendants to the bride. Miss Alma was flower girl, and Miss Burns as honor maid. Mr. Clarence Joekel was best man and the bride's nephew, Lester Slater, was ring bearer.

The bride was gown in white satin made with a train and trimmed with pearls and ornaments. The bride wore a veil and carried a bouquet of bride roses with a shower of swansons. The maid of honor was dressed in a handsome gown of silver cloth and lace with trimmings of orchid satin and she wore a picture hat of white mulline with crown of orchid satin. A bouquet of Shawyer roses contributed to the pretty color effect. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride to the members of the bridal party and the immediate family relatives. A reception and dinner to seventy-five guests came off in the afternoon. A general reception was held in the evening. The Crystal Mandolin orchestra furnished music. Mrs. Elizabeth Burns, of Decatur, mother of the groom, was present, and a sister to the bride and her husband, who were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rollops, of Terre Haute, were also present. Mr. and Mrs. Burns are now at home at 1125 Barthold street.

Jacob Miller performed the marriage service in the presence of the immediate family relatives. Mrs. John Rothman, organist of St. Paul's Reformed church where the bride has been singing for many years, presided at the piano and played during the ceremony "Call Me Thine Own," and for the entrance of the bride and her attendant, the bride's music from Lohengrin. Miss Elsie Heek was the only attendant. The house was profusely decorated with gladioli, the gift of a friend who has fields of the flowers and who cut several hundreds of them for the wedding. The bride made a fine appearance in her wedding gown of white lace trimmed with satin and with silk tulle finishing the satin girle. The bridal bouquet was of bride roses and swansons and the bride's veil hung in three points with a ruffling of the tulle about the hair in the back and a crown effect of chintilly lace in front. Miss Heek was prettily dressed in white organdie handsomely trimmed with Venetian lace. After the wedding collation had been served the bride and groom left for their home in the country, where Mr. Salomon has put up a new residence on his farm on the Dupont road, north of the city.

Woman Who Thinks and Plans Work, Rests

The woman who is always complaining about having too much work on her hands is always the woman who will not try to lighten her labors. In ordinary sections where laundries are practically unknown, women still do their laundry work in the old way.

The fact that a washing machine would save them a lot of hard work and unnecessary labor, never occurs to them. They do this work as their mothers and grandmothers did, before them, and could not be influenced to try any of the labor saving devices that are now found in many rural homes.

Women who do their housework unaided should try to make these duties as light and easy as possible. No matter how pressing her work may be, every stay-at-home woman should try to go out in the air for a certain period daily. If the over-busy woman finds she simply can not spare the time for an outing, she can at least stand at an open window for a few minutes now and then, and fill her lungs with clear, fresh air.

The sensible woman is not making herself and those around her miserable by complaining about what cannot be helped. She plans ways and means to make her work easy and congenial, and manages to conserve her strength—not waste it, and even housecleaning can be made easy if one goes about it in the right way.

FLOWERED CHINTZ JARS IF PAPER IS NOT PLAIN

When a bedroom is papered with anything but a plain or neutral paper flowered chintz should never be used, but often a little color is needed to add tone to the room. In a case of this kind, one of the new bedspreads which are so pretty and easily made is just the thing to give the necessary colors. Select a plain white spread of good quality. Cut from chintz a bunch of roses and baste, one in each corner, and a larger one in the center. Sew to the spread and finish the raw edge with a fine feather stitch or with a long and short buttonhole stitch. This idea can be carried out for scarfs to cover the dressing table and bureau. Make the scarf of linen cut to fit the top of each and finish the edges with a hem, and finish this with the stitch that was used on the spread. Cut out the flowers and applique to the edge of the scarf. Bunches of the same flower can be added to the corners of white curtains with good effect.

Hot weather shirts, silks, $5 to $12; tub silks, $3.95 to $6; other materials, 50c and up.

USE YELLOW SOAP AND JEWEL WEED TO RELIEVE IVY POISON

The irritant poison of the poison-ivy which produces unpleasant effects seems to be an oil.

The best remedy is to wash the parts of the body which have come in contact with the poison-ivy with ordinary strong yellow kitchen soap and water, and then apply the juice of the crushed plant called the jewel weed.

This is a bright green, juicy plant growing to a height of two to four feet in wet places and has an orange-colored hanging flower with brown spots on it.

Another remedy frequently found of value is the application of sugar of lead. This is poisonous, however, and should be used with care.

The only way to get rid of the poison-ivy plant is to keep grubbing it up by the roots.

Sometimes the irritant oil gets on the clothing, so that if this is used again, possibly weeks afterward, the symptoms will reappear, though the patient may be far from where the poison grew.

The first symptom is a localized itching. Soon the itching area turns red. In a few hours fine water blisters, each smaller than a pinhead appear. After a few days the itching lessens and then the redness and swelling gradually subside.

If the itching part is scratched the fingers are liable to spread the infection to other parts of the body. Gloves on the hands when one goes into the woods are the best preventive.

LOW PRICE MENUS NOT FOR GIRL WHO WORKS.

Every once in a while some one comes out with the statement that it is possible to live well on, say, 33 cents a day. The working woman, these enthusiasts will declare, can save largely on her meals, putting the money into something else that will give her a greater return or into the savings bank to provide for her old age. Most of these notions are impracticable.

A girl who is hard at work, whether in an office, a shop, a factory or wherever her hours are long and she must apply herself, needs good food and plenty of it. Perhaps you could get along for a bit on one of these menus, but soon the strain would begin to tell. You would lose your appetite because of the lack of variety in your meals, and your strength would follow. Don't experiment, girls, with any of these fads. Leave that for the women who don't have hard and continuing work to do.

ALWAYS WEAR U. S. FLAG ABOVE OTHER INSIGNA.

Attention has been directed to the fact that wearers of the national colors frequently are guilty of unintentional disrespect to the Stars and Stripes.

A proper respect for the flag, it is pointed out, requires that it should be worn above or at the right of any other insignia or badge worn at the same time.

COOL HANDS AND HOT TOWEL BY THIS METHOD

When a very hot cloth is needed do not wet the whole cloth. Take hold of the ends, one in each hand, drop the center into boiling water and twist the cloth very quickly. The result will be a very hot cloth and cool hands.

NO STIPULATION AS TO SIZE OF NEW SAILORS

Even old friend sailor is putting on airs, and following the inclination of its smaller sisterhood. Sometimes sailors' crowns are of hatter's plush, and the brim is in velvet or taffetas. The semi-Breton brim is new and there are no stipulations as to measurement, since some are wide, some narrow and others of medium width.

We hear hints of the return of the felt hat, but we believe that these won't do, after our indulgence in the soft velours that are so attractive, that clean so well and appear rich and beautiful. Chapeaux for the present for garden parties and country club festivities are of organdies, mullines or hatter's plush, nearly always in white, though the French rose and hortensia blue are having a merry time of it. Hair braids through which sunlight and shadows fall are fascinating, but one wonders just how the lady's tan will spread. She may find herself with a flowered face. What if it should be polka-dotted? In which event she'd sport dancing smiles.

BRAN WATER SHOULD BE USED TO WASH CRETONNE.

Cretonne can be washed and ironed so that it looks practically like new. To do this, use bran water for the washing. When the cretonne has been partly dried in the shade, iron it on the wrong side until completely dry.

Bran water is made by boiling a quart of bran in seven quarts of water for an hour and then straining it through cheesecloth and adding cold water to make it lukewarm. Use soap jelly with the bran water. To make the soap jelly, place shaved soap in a saucepan and add boiling water to dissolve it.

Rinse cretonne, after washing it quickly, in salt water to help set the colors.

IN THE CHURCHES

NOTED LECTURER AT

FIRST M. E. CHURCH

Dr. B. T. Badley, of India, to Talk Tonight About

Epworth League.

The Methodist young people and their friends of this city and vicinity will have the opportunity of enjoying a rare treat this evening, when Dr. Brenton T. Badley, general secretary of the Epworth League in India, will speak at the First M. E. church, corner East Wayne and Lafayette streets.

Dr. Badley has been in this country only a few months, and has many thrilling things to tell concerning the growth and work of the Epworth League "mid India's coral strands."

Can you imagine a real live Epworth League chapter in far-off India; one having a bible study class; classes on foreign missions; a tithing band; doing active temperance work; maintaining a mercy and help department? Dr. Badley has come to bring Methodist young people a new vision and inspiration, by telling us of not one but hundreds of such Epworth Leagues in the land of the minaret and the pagoda.

What do the magic words, "The Mass Movement," mean to you? Dr. Badley has come to us from the land where people are turning to Christianity by hundreds and thousands—a whole caste at a time! The story he has to tell is more wonderful than any you have ever heard.

Dr. Badley already has endeared himself to the hearts of hundreds of Methodist young people because of his magnetic personality and the compelling force of his message, and all those who are interested are invited to come and hear him.

Don't forget the time, the place and the event: Dr. Badley, First M. E. church, Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock. In passing it might be well to remark that First M. E. church is one of the coolest places in the whole city, being well equipped with electric fans. No admission will be charged.

Missionary Here Tonight.

FALL SKIRT WITH MILITARY WAIST.

(By BETTY BROWN.)

This graceful, but serviceable skirt of black silk faille, for fall wear, has either a tunic at the back or an all-around tunic on one side. It is a street costume with something of the elegance and "difference" of evening wear.

A timely and distinguishing touch is offered by the military blouse with epaulettes and braid, just suggestive enough of the spirit of the day without being glaring, or in poor taste.

CITY WATER FORCE LOW

Reservoir Being Filled to Remedy Trying Situation.

BURNING WEATHER TAXES PRESSURE

Evening Hours Bring Many Complaints From High Parts of City.

Do not waste a drop of city water. Pressure in city mains has been lowered to a faint pulse by the tax on the supply, due to the torrid weather.

Several thousand gallons more water was used on Tuesday than at any time before this year. As a result the pressure was lowered until residents in the higher sections of the city were left without water.

The telephone in the board of works office rang continuously Tuesday evening as citizens in the east end of the city were anxious to know the cause of the lack of water at their homes.

More than two hundred calls were registered from the extreme east part of Fort Wayne and many citizens visited the board of works office in person on Wednesday morning.

The wasteful use of water between the hours of five and seven on Tuesday evening is given as a reason for the killing of the pressure. Everybody who had a hydrant at his home was out sprinkling the lawn and drenching the front walk in an effort to cool off the burning atmosphere.

Hundreds of barrels of water were used every minute between that period, water works employees say. Much alarm was aroused because the reservoir, which insures a steady water pressure, was empty.

The big tank was drained several days ago in order that work of placing a roof over the basin might be carried on more rapidly. In order to stall off a water shortage for those who live in the higher regions of the city the reservoir is being filled. It will be many hours before the big tank can be fully filled as much water is being used every hour because of the hot weather.

The reservoir will fill rapidly at night and is expected to be stocked with water by the week-end. The water in the reservoir will be used only for fire needs, but will give pressure to the city water mains.

Work of placing the steel roof on the big basin will go on as before. Workmen will be carried from place to place upon a large float, which is being constructed.

Members of the board of works are that the public make sparing use of the city water for a few days in order that the pressure may be maintained and threat of a water famine be stalled off until cooler days arrive.

NOTED EDUCATOR IS DEAD.

Philadelphia, Aug. 1.—Richard M. Jones, a widely known educator and for forty-two years head master of Penn Charter school, the oldest preparatory school in America, died at the University of Pennsylvania hospital today. Dr. Jones was the first school head to employ a professional football coach, nearly forty years ago. Frederick L. Smith, who has been a member of Penn Charter faculty for twenty-five years, will succeed Dr. Jones.

WILL TAKE CHARGE OF GERMAN VESSEL

Sergeant Wort Ordered to Philadelphia For Naval Duty.

Sergeant I. R. Wort, for several weeks in charge of the Fort Wayne naval recruiting station, will be chief officer on an interned German trader, which is fitted up for transport service. Wort received his orders to report for duty at Philadelphia, Wednesday morning. He does not expect to leave Fort Wayne before the week-end.

The German merchant ship, which was seized at the time of the declaration of war is the Koenig Wilhelm II. It had once run the line of the British blockade. The ship had been in the Philadelphia harbor for three months before United States entered the war.

ARGENTINE SOON TO DEFINE HER STATUS

Germany Had Begged Grace Until the German Reply Could Come.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Argentina is expected to define her position in the world war within the next few days. Official reports to the government indicate this and make it appear that the Argentine foreign office will not longer delay a statement of the status of the controversy with Germany over the sinking of Argentine vessels.

A short time before the American fleet visited Argentine waters it was announced at Buenos Aires that Germany had asked that no drastic move be made by Argentina until she had received the German reply. Argentina had intimated that unless prompt reparations were made, diplomatic relations with Germany would be broken. It is understood that the German answer is such that the Argentine government may feel warranted in further discussion of the subject. If the nature of the reply was conciliatory it is assumed that the Argentines refrained from making it public until after the visit of the American squadron.

While the active or even moral support of any nation would be welcomed with the active support of Brazil and the little nations in the neighborhood of the Panama canal the American government considers its interests in that part of the world are safeguarded, especially since it is assumed that Argentina under no circumstances would take a position more inimical than one of strict neutrality.

Chile's reluctance to assume a more unfriendly attitude towards Germany has not surprised the United States nor created the slightest resentment since it is realized that she has no diplomatic conflict and that her geographic position on the west coast makes it reasonably certain that she will have none. The political friendships in South America, however, are such that Chile can be counted upon to support Brazil should occasion arise.

The attitude of Mexico is no longer one of concern to the government. Mexico's position is that she could not render any service commensurate with the obligations under which she would place the United States and the allied governments if she did adopt an unfriendly attitude towards Germany.

PROSECUTOR OF VIGO COUNTY IS INDICTED

Federal Bill Charges His Failure of Duty in Recent Draft Work.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 1.—William E. Horsesley, prosecuting attorney of Vigo county, was indicted by the federal grand jury recently on a charge of having failed to advise the army conscription boards in his county as he was supposed to do under the terms of the conscription law and proclamation of the president, according to information which became public here today. Arrangement was made for Fred Creators, a deputy United States marshal, to go to Terre Haute this afternoon to serve the warrant on Horsesley.

On Wednesday night, examinations in the home care of the sick classes under Miss Frances Ott, will be held, and all members of these classes are asked to be on hand promptly for the examinations.

Women are urged to meet for Red Cross sewing at the First Baptist church, all day Thursday.

DRAFT BOARD MEMBERS BUSY

Large Per Cent of the Young Men Are Not Anxious to Serve.

Members of the city draft boards are answering the fire from hundreds of questioners Wednesday. Much of the time of the conscription board men has been taken up since early morning in responding to telephone calls and granting interviews with young men.

"How do I go about it to get exempted?" is the most common question, the draft board men say. "Mighty few of the young men seem to be anxious to serve their country at the front," frankly spoke one of the conscription board members in speaking of the fellows who have engaged the attention of the city conscription commissions.

No physical tests have been conducted as yet. It is expected that no examinations will be held before the week end. Draft board members continue to prepare the district orders from the master lists. Work of getting ready for the examinations and exemption hearings will be carried on up until the first candidates for the draft army appear before the board.

MANY TRADES WILL TALK ABOUT TANKS

City Limits May Be Made Line Against Oil Containers.

The hatcher, the baker, the candlestick maker will appear before the city council Wednesday evening, so to speak. Many traders have expressed their desire to have a part in the hearing regarding the placing of a battery of gasoline tanks inside the city limits by the Sinclair Oil company.

Property owners, merchants, real estate men, insurance men, gasoline dealers, taxpayers and a few other classes of Fort Wayne citizens will be represented in the special session of the city fathers. Ardent pleas for and against the right of the oil company to enter the city will be registered.

The council will repeal the present ordinance which gave the Sinclair company the right to place a battery of tanks along the Wabash railroad near Gay street. Stubborn opposition of Mayor W. J. Hoesey is accountable for the change in attitude of the council members on the subject of allowing the tanks in the city. Maybe the company will be allowed to install underground tanks on the site set for the array of gasoline containers in the first law. Contest against the company being allowed to enter the city will be bitter.

Mayor Hoesey will appear in person before the council, it is expected. Officers of the oil company will be present, they have promised.

SAVE CITY WATER.

Extra Pressure is Off During Reservoir Roof Building.

Every effort should be made to conserve the city water supply during the next few days, members of the board of works say. The heat oppressed public is using thousands of gallons more water every day since last week. On the other hand the reservoir is emptied during completion of the steel roof over the big basin.

The reservoir will be empty until Saturday, it is expected. The absence of water in the storage tank reduces the pressure in the city water mains and takes away the reserve force of thousands of gallons of water. Board of works men believe the city will be able to tide over the trying time if all care is taken to conserve the water.

Placing the roof on the reservoir should have been completed before August. Delay in delivery of steel pillars for supporting the roof is accountable for the hold up of several weeks. The big covering is expected to be in place in two weeks.

Building Permits. Building permits were issued to the Wildwood Builders for erecting houses at 618 Creighton avenue, 637 Creighton avenue and two residences on Wildemere drive. The houses will cost $2,800 each.

Working in Park. Park workmen are preparing to beautify the grounds of the new Weisser park addition. Filling of the cellars from which houses have been moved was started Wednesday. Grading work will go on Thursday.

Will Start Work. A letter from the Lake Shore railroad officials, received by the board of works Tuesday evening, stated that work is to be pushed at the Osage street subway. A force of men will be here within a week to complete work on the superstructure at the

Showers Tonight, Followed by Lower Temperature, Is Promised.

BATTERY B MEMBER OVERCOME BY HEAT

July Brings Almost Five Inches of Rain, Establishing New Record.

Ninety-three degrees was registered by the official thermometer at the Fort Wayne office of the United States weather bureau at 2 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, and ninety-two degrees at 1 o'clock. There was one heat prostration.

Relief, however, is promised. P. McDonough, in charge of the local station, says cooler weather should come tonight. He is expecting rain and has so indicated in his official forecast.

The heat victim Wednesday was Wabash Schmidt, 25 years old, a member of Battery B. He was standing on the west side of the court house when he toppled over unconscious. The police ambulance took him to St. Joseph hospital where, at a late hour Wednesday afternoon he was reported as improved. His condition is not regarded as serious.

Elwood Blair, a painter, residing at 1224 Schillings avenue, was overcome Tuesday evening. He was engaged in painting at the time. His condition was much improved Wednesday.

One thing that made the heat oppressive, Mr. McDonough explained, was the fact that the humidity was high. When high temperatures prevail, the humidity should always be below 35 to prevent great discomfort. July was a wet month compared with records of past years for same month part of a year. During the thirty-one days 4.98 inches of rain fell which is larger by half an inch than the nearest figure of any year since records have been kept.

The highest point reached by the mercury during July was 95 degrees, while the lowest was fifty degrees on the eleventh. During the month there were nine clear days, eighteen partly cloudy and four cloudy days. It rained on eleven days.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT DENIES WAR STORY

Had No Conclave July, 1914, to Plan for Launching the Conflict.

Berlin, Aug. 1.—(Via Copenhagen.)—An official statement issued today by the German government says: "The Times of London and the enemy agencies following it are spreading a report about a conference alleged to have been held in the presence of the emperor of Potsdam, July 5, 1914, at which the political and military personages in Germany and Austria-Hungary took part and at which a plan was proposed to let loose the war."

"The Wolf bureau is authorized to declare the statements with all their details are pure inventions. Neither on the day named nor on any other day in July did such a joint conference occur, either with or without the participation of the emperor."

"Moreover, we again declare that the German government abstained from any intervention in drafting the Austrian ultimatum to Serbia and was completely ignorant of the contents of the ultimatum before its dispatch."

"The Times supports its false allegations on statements made by Deputy Cohen in the main committee of the Reichstag. The statement of the deputy was immediately refuted in committee by the government as incorrect."

ONE DEAD, ONE BADLY HURT IN AUTO MISHAP

Kokomo Women Figure in Fatal Plunge Near Carmel, Ind.

Carmel, Ind., Aug. 1.—Mrs. James E. Hillis, 55, of Kokomo, Ind., was killed and Mrs. Edward Kane, 43, also of Kokomo, was injured seriously near here today when an automobile driven by Mrs. Kane turned over down an eight-foot embankment. Mrs. Robert Tudor, of Kokomo, and her mother, Mrs. H. T. Kirkpatrick, who were in the machine, were injured slightly. The latter two are from Chicago. A gust of wind lifted Mrs. Kane's hat from her head and she grabbed for it. The automobile struck a pile of sand near a culvert and then ran down the embankment. Mrs. Kane is at the home of Oliver Stanbrow, near the scene of the accident. The women were on their way to Indianapolis.

BOYS ENROLL NEXT WEEK

Quota in Fort Wayne Is 1,450 and in Allen County 210.

ONLY THOSE BETWEEN 16 AND 21 ELIGIBLE

Organization Is Non-Militaristic—Directors Named for Each County.

Indiana will be called on to provide 50,000 boys as her quota of the Boys' Working reserve of the United States. During enrollment week, August 6 to 12, the state authorities hope to obtain at least that many boys between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one years for the boys' reserve.

The quota for Fort Wayne, worked out on a population basis, will be 1,450. Allen county, outside of the city, will be expected to provide 210 more.

The organization is non-militaristic and that a boy who is enrolled may at any time, on the written request of parent or guardian, receive a furlough or be discharged. Directors have been named for the Boys' Working reserve in eighty counties in the state, and are actively engaged in preparations for making the enrollment of eligible boys next week.

Not only do the state authorities expect to enroll 50,000 boys next week, but they also expect to register every eligible boy in the state. This will be done in accordance with the recent proclamation of Governor James P. Goodrich, in order to make a complete survey of all the available manpower in the state.

The quotas for the counties in this section, based upon one-third of the eligible boys, follow: Adams, 430; Blackford, 290; DeKalb, 450; Huntington, 340; Jay, 500; Kosciusko, 500; Lagrange, 270; Noble, 440; Steuben, 310; Wabash, 500; Wells, 360; White, 310.

STREET LIGHT RATE WILL BE LOWERED

City Plant Is Given Power to Drop Price $3 Per Year.

The rate for current for street arc lights is to be lowered from $53 a year to $50 a year. Authority to reduce the rate was given the city lighting plant by the Indiana public service commission on Tuesday evening. The decrease in cost of street light maintenance will be come effective at once.

Petition for lowering the street lighting rate was filed by the municipal officials a month ago. Action was not expected as yet. Result of the conference of the public service commissioners reached city officials Wednesday.

There has been no opposition to the petition for lowering street lighting rate before the state commission. A long battle has been waged over the request of the city plant to be allowed to reduce the cost of electricity to the public consumers, however. It has been desired to drop the commercial rate 1 cent but stubborn combat against the move has kept the public service commission in a state of inaction for nearly a year.

DR. J. E. M'ARDLE NAMES ASSISTANTS

Dr. J. E. McArdle, examining physician on district No. 3 for the draft, has appointed two assistants who will help him in the work of examining all the men. District No. 3 is the largest in the city and consequently more men must be examined in one day than in any of the other districts.

His assistants are Dr. J. C. Wallace and Dr. W. O. McBride. The re-examining officer for this district will be Dr. Lehman Gould.

Dr. Gould will re-examine all the men who are turned down as physically unable by the other physicians.

STOLE ONLY FROM BROKEN PACKAGES

Adams Express Company Thieves Made It Rule to Take Exposed Goods.

Mighty rough handling has been the lot of Adams Express company packages, according to stories being told in the city court by the six men who are charged with stealing thousands of dollars in property from the company. Five of the men who testified Wednesday all state that they only stole from bundles which had been broken open before the packages reached them.

It was the glint of silver and the gleam of gold, which sparked from a gap in the express package or the musical clatter of jewelry when a ring or pin fell from a damaged bundle that proved the undoing of the trusted express messengers, they all said.

The four men charged with petit larceny all pleaded guilty when arraigned in the city court Wednesday morning. Judge H. W. Kerr will fix their sentences on Thursday morning.

The petit larceny men, whose thefts are said to run between $15 and $30 apiece, are: Floyd Schmitt, 111 Masters avenue; W. L. Magner, of Van Wert, Ohio; R. F. Boenn, 829 East Washington street, and Harold Swank, Fort Wayne.

R. C. Maurer, 915 Barr street, charged with grand larceny, pleaded not guilty. Attorney A. L. Thomas is making a stubborn fight for the man. Hearing of testimony in the Maurer case has gone on for five hours. It will probably run well into the afternoon.

H. D. Korte, who lives on the New Haven road, has yet to be arraigned on a grand larceny charge. He is defended by an attorney.

Five lawyers are defending the six express messengers. The prosecutor's table was surrounded by the legal representatives and private stenographers connected with the representative law offices, wrote tirelessly. The basement court room was crowded. There was much fanning and mopping of brows.

Many chairs were occupied by relatives of the defendants. Parents of two of the young men were in court. Wives and children of the two other defendants were there. All of the express messengers are below forty years of age.

Hearings of those who pleaded guilty to petty larceny charges were brief. There were a few questions to bring out that the defendants were tempted beyond their strength and that they are now sorry for their misdeed and the same will never occur again.

Interest held with the trial of Maurer, which went on until lunch hour and was continued Wednesday afternoon. Special Express Detective P. V. Harrigan was given a most grueling test by Attorney Thomas. The detective was asked to recount his connection with Maurer's case from its inception until the present time.

Maurer told Detectives Biderman, Harrigan and Stahl that he has been stealing from the Adams company for eight years, was brought out. "How much does he say he has taken?" Harrigan was asked. "He told us about $3,000 worth," the detective replied.

Two large trunks were dragged into the court room just before the morning session closed. The big boxes will be opened late Wednesday afternoon. They will hold the silks and pictures and other articles taken from Maurer's house by the detectives.

Two heavy gold rings and charms, representing the Knights of Pythias and Masonic orders were placed on Judge Kerr's desk early in the hearing. All of the men tried on Wednesday admitted that they have safety razors which were stolen.

"Must have been lots of broken razor packages," commented Deputy Prosecutor Hoffman.

Smith Wins First for Chiefs but Evas Come Back in Second

Two Home Runs by Catcher Give Warriors Split in Double-header.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 1.—Only the hard hitting of Catcher Smith, of Fort Wayne, gave the Chiefs a split in the double header with Evansville here yesterday, the visitors winning the first game 3 to 2 and losing the second, 3 to 5.

In the first game the big catcher of the Chiefs poked out two home runs, which were enough to tie the game away for the visitors. In the second game he continued his great hitting, getting three safeties, one a three-bagger. Even these were not enough to win this game, however, as the Evas, by virtue of some timely hitting of Cummings, scored eight runs, while the best the Chiefs could do was five markers.

Kowalski was on the mound for the visitors in the opening game and the Pole was aided to a victory by three double plays, all of which broke up rallies on the part of the Evas. Smith hit his first home run in the first inning, a long hit to deep center. He scored again in the sixth on two errors, a sacrifice and a fielder's choice.

Evansville got a run in the third on a pass, an infield out, a single and sacrifice fly. Smith got his second home run, the run which won the game, in the eighth inning.

Cummings started the second game for the Chiefs, and though he did not allow as many hits as Turner and Winchell, who opposed him, the Evas got their hits when they were needed, scoring one in the first inning, four in the fourth and three in the sixth. Triples by Smith and Stegried, a pass to Hoffman, Kelly's double and Gloeckson's sacrifice, scored three for the Fort Wayne outfit in the fourth. In the fifth they had the bases filled with two out but Stegried's long fly ended the inning.

LINCOLN LIFERS IN DOUBLE BILL SUNDAY

Meet Strong Garrett Team in Two Games at League Park.

Mart Cleary's Lincoln Life team has two hard games ahead, meeting the Garrett Grays in a double header at League park Sunday. The Garrett team has won eighteen out of the nineteen games played, and are now at the top of the Indiana-Ohio league.

The insurance men are determined to come out on top in the games Sunday and will use the strongest line-up possible. Ostermeyer and Hargrave will work in one of the games and Lankeau and Hines in the other. The signing of Hargrave will strengthen the Lincoln Life greatly, as he is one of the best semi-pro catchers in these parts.

"Butch" Dunten, right fielder for the Lincoln Lifers, has quit for the remainder of the season, and Bud Devillias will play in the sun field. Included in the Garrett line-up is Blacksmith and Laird, of this city, and Carl Mels and Patsy Donovan, of the defunct Kendallville team.

First game will be called at 2 o'clock and both can be seen for one admission.

BASEBALL PLAYERS? LOOK AT CLOTHES AND THEN GUESS.

LARRY McLEAN

WALTER BENNETT

(By Paul Turman.)

"Ball players?—now, no self-respecting ball player would masquerade in a leopard skin and go out trying to emulate Ruth St. Denis."

That's what an old-time ball player said when he lamped the accompanying picture and was asked whether he thought they were ball players.

"But," he added, frowning, "that big guy's face looks familiar."

Sure it did.

"That big guy" is none other than Larry McLean, former first string catcher of the Giants and Reds, 6 feet 6 in. leopard skin or bathing suit and a little longer in splices and spangles.

The other is Walter Bennett, formerly a Pittsburgh Pirate.

Just now they are extras in a new Fox film play in which Valeska Suratt is starring.

And if they ever get back on the diamond watch for "Curse you, Lord Byron." Instead of the usual run of talk handed the unps.

SPORT NOTES.

More than 1,500 sportsmen, including many college athletes, have, it is estimated, enlisted in the government's service. Football players are most numerous.

Toronto cricket players intend to play matches against New York and Philadelphia elevens next September.

The Atlanta A. C. will stage the Junior and senior swimming championships of the Southern Amateur Athletic Union.

Bud Goodwin, of the New York A. C., who has never been beaten in a race of upward of one mile, began his seventeenth year recently by winning the quarter-mile Metropolitan district championship event.

The National Baseball association in 1864 consisted of twenty-eight clubs.

Little Johnny McTaggart, considered by many followers of horse racing the best jockey since Tod Sloan finished his wonderful career, began his wage earning days as a messenger boy in New York. He was seventeen years old when he began as a jockey and weighed 59 pounds. Today he is four years older and can scale 103 pounds and he is strong. Riding under the colors of R. T. Wilson and piloting such horses as the great Campfire, which won nearly $50,000 for his owner last year, McTaggart holds the hopes and fears of those who follow Wilson's colors every time he mounts a horse.

GOOD ENTRIES FOR PAPER MILLS STAKE

The Best Horses of Detroit Races Are to Run at Kalamazoo.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 1.—Six of the first seven horses to finish in the $10,000 M. & M. stake at Detroit last week are to compete again today here in the $10,000 Paper mills stake for 2:08 trotters.

Busy Lassie, the New Jersey mare with which Walter Cox captured last week's rich purse, is favored to win, although Al Mack, which took the first two heats of the M. & M. Miss Perfection, Lu Princeton, Ridgemark and other contenders in the M. & M. are entered in the fairly large field.

The other three races on the program are the 2:12 trot for three-year-olds, the 2:14 and the 2:17 pace. Each is for a $1,000 purse.

Only seven are qualified for the three-year-old trot, but the other two have considerably larger fields, with half-milers well represented.

Tramp-a-Bit was the surprise of the races here yesterday, winning three straight heats in the 2:11 pace, after finishing sixth in the first two. He was a rank outsider. Baxter Lou, who won the first two heats, was nearly distanced in the third.

Two favorites were winners in the other two races, Royal Mack taking the 2:17 trot, and Savoy the 2:05 pace. The winner of the last race was pressed in every heat, only winning by a head in every case. The Savoy was a heavily played favorite.

ALL-AMERICAN TEAM 1901 AT PERU SHOOT

Famous Organization Holds First Reunion Since Visit to Europe.

Peru, Ind., Aug. 1.—The Peru gun club's Hoosier classic tournament today and tomorrow promises to bring together more marksmen than have ever assembled in the middle west excepting for a national event. Frank M. Stutesman, president of the Peru gun club, is responsible for the staging of this big event. When he suggested a reunion of the all-American team of 1901 for the coming event it was not believed by any one that such a feature could be pulled off in a city the size of Peru. But Mr. Stutesman is not a quitter and he persistently urged the twelve men to come to Peru for this occasion and has won his point.

Defeated All Comers.

In 1901 the all-American team crossed the Atlantic and defeated all comers in England and Scotland. When they went to France, because of their superior marksmanship they were not permitted to compete with the French shooters. Not since they conquered the old world have the members of this team been together for a reunion. Mr. Stutesman has assurances that they will all be here. They are: Capt. Thomas A. Marshall, of Chicago; Holla Hikes, of Dayton, O.; William Crosby, of O'Fallon, Ill.; Fred Gilbert, of Spirit Lake, Iowa; Edward Banks, of Wilmington, Del.; J. S. Fanning, of New York city; E. H. Tripp, of Indianapolis; C. M. Powers, of Decatur, Ill.; Frank Parmlee, of Omaha, Neb.; Richard Merrell, of Milwaukee, Wis.; J. A. R. Elliott, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Charles Budd, of Des Moines, Iowa.

For these men a banquet at the city park, which adjoins the Peru gun club grounds, will be held and the meal will be served by a country church organization of ladies which insures the banquet of a real country dinner. It is expected that at least 200 marksmen will face the traps today and tomorrow.

The Hoosier classic is for the dedication of the Peru gun club's handsome new clubhouse which has been lately completed. The building's exterior is of stone. The interior is modern in its appointments.

COLLEGE MEN WANT QUICK ACTION WAR

College athletics are used to action and when they get into government service they want to get action just as they got it on the football field.

That's why four college men in the naval reserve have asked to be transferred to the marine corps.

The men are "Cupid" Black, captain of the 1916 Yale football team; Charley Barrett, Cornell halfback, and one of the greatest football players developed in the east in a decade; Harold Early, a Yale baseball player, and Harry Sullivan, a baseball player from Georgetown.

"The marine corps gets quick action," said Early. "That's what we want. We might stay in the naval reserve a year without seeing anything more thrilling than a movie."

NATIONAL MORALITY THE GREATEST NEED

Christian Citizenship Institute at Winona.

Winona Lake, Ind., Aug. 1.—Moral-ity rather than economic or political advantage should govern acts of government, according to the speakers at the thirteenth annual Christian Citizenship institute which has just closed its sessions at Winona Lake, Ind. The institute was conducted by the National Reform association of Pittsburg, Pa.

The teaching of German leaders that "might makes right" and that there is no such thing as national morality was held to account for lawlessness of the German method of warfare. German philosophers and officials were flayed for inculcating in the German people a desire for war and just for world power. It was said that when a nation believes that treaties are only scraps of paper, it is time to put that nation into the scrap-heap. When a government seizes the sword of unrighteousness, it will perish with the sword of justice.

Dr. James S. Martin, superintendent of the National Reform association, asserted that national sin brings on war. Germany has sinned in pride and in trust in force; Austria in unjust tariff discriminations against Serbia; Turkey in its treatment of the Armenians. The allies also are not guiltless nor is the United States, which has shown greed in the midst of European suffering and continues to license the liquor traffic.

The world needs a new spirit. The standards of Christianity must prevail. As the acceptance and practice of Christianity prevents individual strife, just so the acceptance of Christian principles by governments will bring world peace. These principles are those of justice, righteousness, good will and mutual helpfulness.

Delegates were elected at the institute to the third world's Citizenship conference, which is to be held in Pittsburg, Pa., in July, 1918. This conference is called to consider the reconstruction of the world which will follow the war, and for the purpose of influencing the governments of the world to put their relationships on the basis of Christian principles. The last conference which was held in Portland, Ore., was attended by over 15,000 persons, and on its program fourteen countries were represented.

URGES MINISTERS OF STATE TO WAR WORK

Rev. Dr. Storms Says the Hour of Sacrifice Has Come to People.

Indianapolis, Aug. 1.—The state council of defense, through its publicity committee, George A. Do, chairman, today issued the following:
"The hour has come when sacrifice becomes a sacrament," asserts the Rev. A. B. Storms, of Indianapolis, a member of the state council of defense, and chairman of the committee on moral, religious and social forces, in a communication to the ministers of Indiana, directing their attention to the increased need of their services to the people in the present international crisis.

Urging the ministers to emphasize the righteousness of our cause and their congregations to keep in close personal touch with the young men who are called into the army, by sending them letters, books and papers, and that "all our people be constrained to pray for the divine guidance of our leaders, for the moral strength of our people, for the triumph of right and the establishment of permanent peace."

The Rev. Storms' appeal says:
"In this hour when the shadow of a great dread is resting upon millions of American homes there is need as never before since the civil war of the moral strength which springs from religious faith."

"The spiritual resources of our people must be mobilized for the great struggle upon which we are now entering. The state council of defense asks that each minister in a brief prelude in connection with his public services emphasize from Sunday to Sunday such aspects of patriotic duty as seem to him most important, and, second, that support be given by all our people to the policies that are now and shall be advocated by government authorities looking to the conservation of our national resources."

During the hot weather of the summer months some member of almost every family is likely to be troubled with an unnatural looseness of the bowels, and it is of the greatest importance that this be treated promptly, which can only be done when the medicine is kept at hand. At that time I had a severe attack of summer complaint and was suffering intense pain. One dose relieved me. Other members of my family have since used it with like results."—Advertisement.

Lemons Beautify!

Strain lemon juice well before mixing and massage face, neck, arms, hands.

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness of which it has been robbed by trying atmospheric conditions. Winchafe, roughness, tan and redness are washed off and those tell-tale lines of care or of age are softened away.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold creams. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothen and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.—Advertisement.

CORN REACHES NEW HIGH WATER MARK

Another Jump Brings Price
Slight Drop.

Corn continued its upward climb Wednesday morning, the highest mark reached being $2.06 per bushel. This is the highest price that has been paid for corn this spring. Six loads were sold at the city scales, ranging in price from $2 to $2.06. Another big supply of new hay was weighed, thirty-two loads selling from $8 to $12 per ton. Four loads of the old hay brought $17 per ton. Two loads of oats sold at 77 and 80 cents per bushel.

One dealer quoted a price of 40 cents per peck for new potatoes Wednesday morning, a mark which is five cents a peck lower than the former price. Eggs remained at 37 cents per dozen. There is a scarcity just now in lemons and watermelons, owing to the extremely hot weather. Lemons have soared greatly in price during the past few days.
